

TWO OTHER CLASHES WITH MEXICANS FEARED AT BORDER

DEMAND WILL BE MADE ON FIRST CHIEF TO RENOUNCE ATTACKS ON AMERICANS AND IMMEDIATELY RELEASE PRISONERS

Failure to Comply With American Ultimatum Would Result in Gravest Consequences.

WASHINGTON'S NEXT STEP

War Department, in Meantime, is Pressing Efforts to Strongly Reinforce Border.

NO CAUSE FOR MEDIATION

It is Unlikely Wilson Would Accept Any Such Proposal.

Washington, June 24.—A peremptory demand that General Carranza repudiate the attack on American troops at Carrizal and immediately release all captured American soldiers, was understood tonight to be the next step in the Mexican crisis now contemplated by the Washington government.

Failure to comply with either demand would result in the gravest consequences foretold in Secretary Lansing's recent note to the de facto government.

Formation of a communication awaited a final report from General Pershing on the Carrizal incident. Pending its receipt the War Department pressed urgently today its efforts to reinforce strongly the border patrol and to prepare for any eventuality.

Full information from American sources as to what happened at Carrizal was still lacking, and the long delay in finding additional survivors of the fight was regarded as an ominous sign. No American officer may survive. In that event action would probably be based on the reports already received from stragglers.

Aside from the stragglers, the American dead and the prisoners in Mexican hands, reported by Carranza, more than a score of men remained unaccounted for out of Captain Boyd's little detachment of negro troops. Without exception the reports of the stragglers indicate that the force was trapped and massacred by machine gun fire.

Some hope persisted tonight that a few of the command, left afloat in the desert when their horses stampeded under the Mexican fire, may have dug themselves in somewhere in the country west of Carrizal and are waiting for relief. General Pershing's cavalry supports were nearing the scene of the tragedy and already had picked up a number of survivors, according to late reports from the border.

Officials were plainly concerned with news despatches from Chihuahua indicating that General Carranza, the Mexican commander, had threatened to attack American columns reported advancing from the field base before San Antonio and Ojo Caliente if they did not immediately retreat. Another battle at this time might precipitate general hostilities.

Carranza Seeking Mediation?

Rumors that the Carranza government was seeking mediation through other Latin-American nations came from many quarters today.

The activities of Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate, lent weight to the reports. Private advices from Mexico City also continued to indicate that General Carranza still hoped to find a way to evade the stern policy has aroused.

No offers of mediation reached the State Department from any source. Administration officials held that they have nothing to mediate. It is generally regarded as unlikely that President Wilson would agree to any proposal that meant tying the hands of General Pershing in his efforts to protect the border from bandits. A mediation plan resting on a military status quo during negotiations, would present pursuit of raiders or any operations beyond the border to break up bandit organizations before they became dangerous. And it is for this purpose General Pershing's column has been maintained in its present position despite Carranza's opposition.

Not Open to Mediation.

Under these circumstances it was intimated on high authority that efforts toward preservation of peace concerning the initiation of which the minister of Salvador was authorized today to confer with his diplomatic colleagues could go no further than an attempt to persuade General Carranza to change his attitude toward the deterring.

CAPTAIN BOYD REMAINED IN HIS SADDLE UNTIL WOUNDED MORTALLY BY THIRD BULLET

Americans at Carrizal, Trapped and Fighting Against Heavy Odds, Charged Twice Directly Into Jaws of Ambush Laid by the Mexicans and Captured Concealed Machine Gun Trench—Corporal Green Tells of the Encounter.

Field Headquarters, Colonia Dublan, June 24, (by wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—Trapped and fighting against heavy odds, the troops of the Tenth cavalry engaged at Carrizal on Wednesday, charged twice directly into the jaws of the ambush which the Mexicans had laid for them. With bullets in his arm and shoulder, Capt. Charles T. Boyd, the commander, remained in the saddle, leading his negro troops until they had captured the concealed Mexican machine gun trench, when he fell, mortally wounded by a bullet in the eye.

This was the gist of the first detailed account of the engagement from American sources which was brought to General Pershing today by Corporal Green, of C troop, who was at Captain Boyd's side when he died.

The Americans were flanked on both sides by the Carranzistas who had partly surrounded the little command during a conference between General Felix Gomez, the Mexican leader, and Captain Boyd. In front was a concealed Mexican machine gun trench from which a stream of bullets unexpectedly was poured into the American ranks.

Corporal Green said that Captain Boyd, although wounded in the arm and shoulder by the first fire, immediately gave the order to charge and the detachments rode at top speed in a half of bullets, directly at the trench, capturing it just as the American leader fell. The Mexicans retreated to cover in a nearby adobe shack.

Lieut. Henry Adair assumed command and ordered a second charge, which drove through the shack, scattering the Mexican command. Green said he did not see Lieutenant Adair after this charge and believed that he lost his life in it.

Meanwhile, Capt. Lewis S. Morey, commanding K troop, which was also partly surrounded during the parley, occupied another adobe house with his men from which he engaged a second detachment of Mexicans. While it is assumed here that Captain Morey was wounded in the fight, neither Corporal Green nor any of the other survivors reports which have reached field headquarters, knew anything of the outcome of his part of the fight.

It is believed here, however, that he may have collected the shattered remnants of the American command and is bringing it slowly through the obstacles to General Pershing's lines. The survivors arriving here said that the Carranzistas circled fire around Carrizal after the engagement and overtook and captured a number of soldiers who had been holding horses back beyond sight of the point where the fight began.

Picking together the fragmentary reports which have reached field headquarters, all except 21 of the 54 men engaged in the fight have been accounted for. These reports indicate that 13 were killed, 17 taken prisoner. Thirty-three have come into camp here in the last two days, most of them coming afoot over a desert, suffering the greatest hardships from lack of water.

News despatches from Chihuahua City yesterday indicated that with the capture of five additional prisoners, the captives in the hands of the Carranzistas now number 25, leaving 16 of the men engaged at Carrizal unaccounted for.

PERSHING'S REPORT ON THE CARRIZAL BATTLE RECEIVED

Washington, June 24.—Secretary Baker tonight received General Pershing's latest official report on the fight at Carrizal. He made public the following excerpts:

"A report received this morning from Major Jenkins reports five men of troop C and one man of troop K have been found at the San Luis ranch. The men state that Captain Boyd's troop C occupied the left of the line and that Captain Morey's troop K occupied the right.

"After the firing began, Troop C advanced 250 yards toward the Mexican position along the irrigation ditch, taking it and capturing machine guns. Captain Boyd was twice wounded in the arm and shoulder before he reached the position and was killed in the irrigation ditch.

"Troop C continued to advance through the town until Lieut. Adair. This was the last seen of Troop C by the men.

"Troop K was outflanked and withdrew a short distance, occupying an adobe house. Captain Morey was wounded in the shoulder. This house was surrounded by Mexicans and was under fire for some time. The men with General Jenkins state they believe ten or more of Morey's troops escaped. It is believed that full particulars will be secured and the remaining men who escaped will be found."

TOWN OF NUEVO LAREDO IN MEXICO BEING EVACUATED

Laredo, Tex., June 24.—All military equipment, including cavalry horses, were loaded into box cars at Nuevo Laredo tonight and there was every indication the garrison would leave for the south during the night. The streets of the Mexican town were practically deserted at 8 o'clock when the international bridge was closed.

CARRANZA FORCES INTENDED TO ATTACK THE MAIN COLUMN

Field Headquarters, June 24, (via wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—General Pershing, American expeditionary commander, today received reports that the Carranzistas forces near here had intended to attack his command at the time of the Carrizal engagement, but were deterred by the strength of the Americans.

DISSOLUTION OF THE CORN PRODUCTS COMPANY ORDERED

Judge Hand Files Decision Sustaining Complaint of Government.

New York, June 24.—Dissolution of the Corn Products Refining Company and its allied concerns as an illegal combination in restraint of trade was directed by Federal Judge Hand in a decision filed today sustaining the complaint of the government. Under the decree the Federal Trade Commission, acting as a master in chancery will arrange the details of the dissolution. This is the first time the commission has been called upon by a court to act in such a capacity. The suit was instituted by the government in March, 1915, under the Sherman anti-trust law, hearings had been held in New York and other cities before a special commission.

The Corn Products Company is an $8,000,000 corporation with plants in New York, Illinois and other states.

ALLEGED MURDERER BELIEVED TO BE HIDING IN CARRANZA

Sheriff's Poses From Two Counties Closing in On Him.

Huntsville, Ala., June 24.—Sheriff's posse from two counties tonight were closing in on a canebreaker near Huntsville, Ala., in which it was reported today a man answering the description of D. D. Overton, the indicted murderer, was hiding.

Five of nine indictments returned by the special grand jury which today reported on its investigation of the murder and conditions surrounding it, charged violation of the prohibition laws. W. T. Byron, a former policeman; William E. Ewing, a plumber; and Charles W. E. McMillin, and Ed Spalce were named in the indictments, and have been arrested.

SALE OF MILLS DELAYED

Justice Watters Order Postpones Hampton Mills Deal Indefinitely.

Greenville, S. C., June 24.—The proposed sale of the Hampton group of cotton mills by the Parker Cotton Mills Company to Lockwood Green & Co., for $2,555,000 was indefinitely postponed today when Associate Justice Watters, of the state supreme court, issued an order of supercedas. This order stays the decision of Circuit Judge Mauldin which denied an injunction requested by stockholders to prevent the sale, and also stops the bankruptcy proceedings instituted after Judge Mauldin's decision. The next meeting of the supreme court is in November.

WILL RECEIVE FULL PAY

R. J. Reynolds Company Will Hold Elections Open for Employees.

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 24.—The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., announced today that employees called out for border service will continue to receive their regular pay as long as the service lasts. Positions will be held open for the men.

Harrisonburg, Va., June 24.—Much damage was done in Harrisonburg and environs today by a wind and hail storm. Several houses were unroofed, trees, fences and telegraph wires blown down and hail destroyed crops in the fields.

Buenos Aires, June 24.—Public opinion in Argentina is concerned rather indifferently with the Mexican question. Most of the papers deplore the conflict between Mexico and the United States, but express hope of an early solution of the difficulties.

30,000 GUARDSMEN IN MOBILIZATION CAMPS LAST NIGHT

This is Out of a Total of 128,000 in Eastern Department, Comprising 22 States.

GEN. WOOD MAKES REPORT

New York Militia Will Not Be Prepared for Border for at Least Another Week.

New York, June 24.—More than 30,000 of the 128,000 National Guardsmen of the Department of the East, comprising 22 states east of the Mississippi and District of Columbia, were in mobilization camps last night, six days after the call was issued, according to the report forwarded to the War Department by General Wood, commanding the department.

Of this number Massachusetts contributed 8,000 and New Jersey 5,000. General Wood and Major General Ryan, commander of the New York National Guard, it is understood, are opposed to the departure of the guard except as a divisional unit, and after a conference between the two generals today General Wood sent a telegram to General Pershing recommending the divisional unit plan. If General Pershing consents the New York National Guard will take them to the border until every unit has been assembled at Camp Whitman.

It was stated in official quarters that the bulk of the New York National Guard would not be prepared for the border for at least a week because of the complications that have arisen. It was pointed out as an instance that the guard is unable to purchase 2,000 horses that it required because of a failure to secure authority from the War Department.

Handling of green horses by the citizen soldiery proved a difficult proposition today and a number of persons, including four guardsmen, were injured.

AERONAUTICAL STUDENTS TO BE SWORN INTO THE SERVICE

Newport News, Va., June 24.—National guardsmen studying aviation at the Atlantic Coast aeronautical school here today were notified by the government that a muster officer will be here Monday to swear them into service in the United States flying corps. The students have been advised by the Aero Club of America that the government will take them to Garden City, where they will complete their course 48 hours after arrival.

Captain Taylor, of the Connecticut state guard, and Lieutenant Bagwell, of the Nebraska state guard, completed the course today. Four others are due to take their tests Monday.

BLADEN COUNTY HOLDS UNIQUE CELEBRATION

First County Health Commencement in North Carolina.

Marks Close of Very Successful Three Months' Health Campaign Conducted by Dr. T. M. Jordan—Raleigh Speakers.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Elizabethtown, N. C., June 24.—The first county health commencement in North Carolina or in the United States was held here today. Every section of the county, the largest in area in the State, was well represented by the men and women who have made the health campaign a success.

This unique celebration marked the close of a three months' campaign conducted by Dr. T. M. Jordan, who has gone into every part of the county and talked health and better sanitary methods of living. The exercises were presided over by A. H. Pait and opened with prayer by Rev. W. H. Goodman of Clarkton.

Dr. Jordan made a final report of the health campaign and in closing thanked the people of the county for the great interest taken in the work and for the prominent part taken by the Bladen Journal.

Dr. Cyrus Thompson, of Jacksonville, N. C., and Dr. C. T. Nesbitt, of Wilmington, were to deliver the principal addresses, but were not present and their places were ably and well filled by J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh, and Dr. G. M. Cooper, of the State Board of Health.

The speeches of Mr. Bailey and Dr. Cooper were greatly enjoyed by the large crowd.

Perhaps the greatest novelty and most enjoyed part of the programme was a song sung to the tune of "Tip-Top" (Continued on Page Two.)

AMERICANS BROKE MEXICAN LINES IN CARRIZAL BATTLE

Whether Captain Boyd's Forces Were Able to Make Their Escape is Yet Unknown.

TWO MORE TROOPS MISSING

Command of Cavalrymen Under Major Jenkins Hastening to the Scene of Battle.

San Antonio, Texas, June 24.—The force of the Tenth United States cavalry under Captain Charles T. Boyd succeeded in breaking through the lines of the Mexican force under General Felix Gomez at Carrizal, according to a message tonight from General Pershing to General Funston, but whether any of them were able to make their escape is unknown.

Captain Boyd's men of C troop took the ditch in which the front line of Mexican troops were entrenched and charged through into the town of Carrizal. Troop L, under Captain Lewis Morey, charged with C troop but were outflanked and forced to take refuge in an adobe house. They at least had a chance to defend themselves from cover, but their ultimate fate is unknown as is that of remnants of Captain Boyd's troop.

Several Troopers Found.

This news came to General Pershing by courier from Major John M. Jenkins, commanding a squadron of the relief expedition sent out from Colonia Dublan. Major Jenkins also announced that he had found three members of C troop of the Tenth cavalry and one member of H troop at San Luis ranch. The other stragglers that the attack had been opened by the Mexican troops without provocation.

General Pershing said in his report that he did not believe that the thirty-seven men still unaccounted for had been captured. This was taken here to mean that he feared Captain Morey's men had not been able to hold out against the odds against them, even from the shelter of the house in which they had taken refuge, and had been killed. It is still hoped, however, that they may be holding out.

Major Jenkins' command is hastening toward Carrizal to their relief. Major Robert L. Howze, with the second squadron of the relief expedition, is a day behind Jenkins and is pressing hard to overtake him. General Pershing, according to his report, has sent provisions and supplies for the wounded to meet Major Jenkins on their return march toward Colonia Dublan.

General Pershing reported that the troops under Captain Boyd and Captain Morey showed the greatest courage and the most sterling fighting qualities.

No mention of the Mexican cavalry charge reported by the stragglers last night was made in the Pershing report, but the fact that the Americans were able to advance and break the Mexican lines after the first attack is believed to give some indication that the charge was checked.

How Troops Were Placed.

According to stories told by the men found at San Luis ranch after the Mexicans had opened fire, with several machine guns, Captain Boyd dismounted his men and formed them in line of skirmishers. Captain Boyd, with C troop, led the first line and Captain Morey, with K troop, the right. They advanced by rushes toward the Mexican ditch, 500 yards distant, which sheltered the main force of Mexican troops and from which the machine gun was spraying their ranks with lead. Making every shot of their own count, they captured ditch with one final wild rush, putting the Mexicans to flight and capturing several machine guns.

Boyd Shot Three Times.

Captain Boyd was wounded twice, once in the arm and once in the shoulder. In the final rush on the entrenched Mexicans, Captain Boyd fell dead, shot through the body. Without checking their advance, C troop, led by Lieutenant Harry Adair, moved on after the fleeing Mexicans into the town. That was the last seen of them by the men found at San Luis ranch. Apparently they found themselves in danger of capture from Mexican forces approaching from the rear, and General Pershing's report gives no further details of the fate of Adair and his men.

Captain Morey was shot through the shoulder while advancing with K troop on the irrigation ditch. His men, however, were outflanked by a superior force of Mexicans and were forced to take shelter in an adobe house. When last seen by the stragglers, they were returning a spirited fire, through windows and loop holes punched in the adobe walls, to the Mexicans surrounding their shelter.

General Funston made an urgent request of the War Department today that some step be taken immediately to demand the release of the Americans taken prisoner in the fight at Carrizal, and now held in the prison at Chihuahua.

TREVINO HAS ORDERED ATTACK ON AMERICANS MARCHING SOUTHWARD

Two Columns of Troops Headed Towards San Antonio and Ojo Caliente Last Night Were Believed to Have Met the Mexicans, Who Had Orders to Open Fire if the Americans Did Not Immediately Retreat to the North.

LITTLE KNOWN OF THE STRENGTH OF THE AMERICAN DETACHMENTS OR OF INTENDED DESTINATIONS

Carrizal Fight Regarded by Some as Only an Incident of What Will be Planned to be a General Attack on the Expeditionary Force Under General Pershing—Carranza Troops Concentrating in All the Northern Mexico States.

El Paso, Texas, June 24.—Apprehension that battles may be in progress between American and Mexican troops in at least two places in northern Chihuahua gripped the border tonight. American columns were moving in the direction of San Antonio and Ojo Caliente; while General Jacinto Trevino, commanding the Carranza army in the north, has ordered troops at adjacent points to attack them if they do not retreat immediately.

While information concerning these movements reached here today from Chihuahua City, additional advices indicated that General Trevino's scouts reported the approach of Americans yesterday, and that his orders were issued immediately. With the lapse of 24 hours, it is assumed here that the opposing forces may have met.

Little Known of Mission.

Little was known here tonight as to the strength of the American columns or their mission, but it was assumed that one of them might be a detachment sent by General Pershing to rescue the survivors of the Tenth cavalry, engaged at Carrizal.

Army officers here also pointed out that the column headed for Ojo Caliente, about 30 miles south of Carrizal, probably is composed of the troops surviving the engagement there, and the two squadrons of the 11th cavalry sent to reinforce them. Mexican authorities content themselves with asserting that the strength of the commands despatched to meet them is adequate.

It is believed here that the American command advancing in the direction of San Antonio, 50 miles southeast of Niangua, may be in pursuit of bandits. While the lack of definite information begets apprehension, military men point out that General Pershing, General Trevino's threats and the Carrizal fight before him, undoubtedly has taken steps to protect detachments he has sent out, and that preparations have been made to reinforce the American command if necessary.

General Attack Planned?

A suggestion that the Carrizal fight was but an incident of what will be planned to be a general attack on American expeditionary command was received here late today from General Pershing's headquarters. The reports pointed out that only the palpable strength of the Americans deterred the Carranza followers.

Support is lent to this belief by the redoubtable early in the week of all Carranza troops in western Chihuahua. Military authorities here who are inclined to place some credence in the reports pointed out that at that time the semi-circular line of the Mexicans which had stretched around General Pershing's command for some weeks began to close in, evincing a distinctly hostile attitude.

However, General Pershing re-disposed his troops, effecting the Carranza movement, presenting to them a compact, prepared fighting unit. The accepted belief is that Mexican leaders realized they could not hope to cope with the Americans under such circumstances, mostly abandoned the general plan. General Felix Gomez, at Carrizal, however, in command of one section of the proposed advance carried out what he believed to have been one of the pre-arranged details.

Garrison Still in Juarez.

News from Juarez has caused well informed Americans here to give up the belief that Juarez in event of a break would be evacuated without a fight. That General Gonzales and his staff are still in Juarez and the town garrison is being maintained, reports of Mexican troop movements in the outlying districts and apparently increased precautions on the American side, are cited as confirmatory of the theory.

Further authentic information from Juarez today indicated continued preparation, especially the departure of a contingent of volunteers for the south. A train of 18 cars carrying 150 non-combatants, mostly women and children and some old men, arrived today under an infantry guard of 20 soldiers from Chihuahua City. The passengers crossed to the American side, apparently preferring to take their chances here.

Two trains left Juarez. One of five cars filled with provisions and three passenger coaches, was bound for Casas Grandes.

Continued rumors of the presence of Villa in this region have reached United States authorities, but have not been generally credited. Villa, within the last few days, has been reported to be in Juarez, Guadalupe and Rio Grande.

Carranzistas Concentrating.

Reports of heavy concentration of Carranzista troops in all of the northern ern Mexico states have been received at the border points, while recruiting is said to be progressing rapidly. The same reports indicate that a number of former outlaw leaders and their commands are joining General Trevino's army of the north as a result of a Mexican war department's offer of complete amnesty to persons who have opposed the government, provided they join in combating a possible American invasion.

No perceptible exodus of Americans from El Paso followed the publication today of Consul Garcia's advice to his nationals to return to Mexico inasmuch as Americans continue to leave Mexican territory. On the other hand, during the day a large number of Mexicans crossed into the United States, asserting they were fleeing from here in the event of hostilities. Local American customs officials today were co-operating with the military officers holding up heavy freight shipments into Mexico and keeping American rolling stock on this side of the frontier. While no specific embargo orders have been received, it was said, every effort was being made to prevent any large consignments crossing the border.

Bodies of Americans Unburied.

Bodies of the American soldiers killed in the engagement at Carrizal lie unburied on the field, according to French and Mexican refugees who arrived in Juarez today. They asserted that the Mexican dead were buried immediately after the fight, but that the American bodies had been left lying exposed.

The arrivals also said that the Carranza losses were much heavier than the Mexican official reports, which placed the Carranza losses at 141. They said, that the lowest estimate was made public for the political purpose of impressing upon the Carranza Mexicans that the first clash between American and Mexican troops had resulted in a "great Mexican victory."

It was pointed out that 25 Mexican were buried near the scene after the engagement, as many more bodies, including that of General Felix Gomez, were taken to Chihuahua City and two squadrons were loaded with wounded, several of whom died since in the Chihuahua hospital.

CIRCULARS DECLARE THAT STATE OF WAR NOW EXISTS

Brownsville, Texas, June 24.—Circulars were distributed in Matamoros, opposite here, declaring that the latest crossing, into Mexico of American troops near here has been construed as a declaration of war against Mexico by the United States.

The circulars are signed by General E. P. Nafarrete, commander of Mexican forces in the state of Tamaulipas. The circulars, dated June 17, declare a state of war exists between the two countries. They add that all Americans found in Mexico with arms will be executed, but Americans pursuing peaceful occupations south of the Rio Grande and who are not armed will be protected.

Apparently the circular was issued at the time of the crossing of Americans just west of Brownsville last Saturday in pursuit of bandits who attacked a detachment of the Twenty-sixth infantry and raided two ranches near San Benito. These troops were withdrawn last Sunday on promise of Mexican authorities to capture and punish the bandits.

NEW HUGE AEROPLANES ARE SENT TO AMERICAN CAMP

Columbus, N. M., June 24.—Aero planes for scouting purposes, were sent south from here today on imperative orders from General Pershing. The planes are the new 160 horsepower type and each carried a pilot and an observer.

BRUSILOFF STILL DRIVING WESTWARD

Russians Occupy Town of Kut, Across Galician Border, But Austrians Retake It.

GERMAN FORCE INCREASING

Important Gains Have Been Scored by the Crown Prince's Armies at Verdun—Italians Make Further Advances.

The Russian offensive is still in full swing in Bukovina where the advance of General Brusiloff's forces continue. The town of Kut, across the Galician border at the foot of the Carpathians, has been occupied, though Vienna reports its recapture by Austrians.

To the north German troops in increasing numbers are reported to be coming to the aid of the Austrians and the Russians are being forced to fight to hold the ground they have already won. Heavy fighting is in progress all along the line from northern Galicia well to the northwest of Latak, but neither side is claiming material progress. The German army headquarters statement asserts that some ground has been gained by General von Lindegen's forces but Petrograd does not admit that a permanent advantage has been won by the Austro-German armies at any point.

Important gains have been scored by the Germans at Verdun. Capturing the Thiaumont fortified position north of the city they pushed on and captured part of the village of Fleury, little more than three miles from Verdun, but were soon ejected from the village by a counter attack, according to the Paris official statement. The French war offices make the further claim that much of the ground taken by the Germans was recaptured in subsequent counter attacks by the French but admits that the Crown Prince's forces are still in possession of the Thiaumont work.

The Italians have made further advances in the Trentino, pushing forward in the Pustec sector, while elsewhere they have withstood successful attacks by the Austrians. Constantinople reports an important success in Turkish Armenia, where the Russians were driven from positions more than a mile in width on a mountain ridge north of the Chokchik river. On the Persian frontier at Mesopotamia the Russians were cleared from Paltak pass and pursued by the Turks some ten miles to the eastward. Petrograd claims a Turkish repulse in the Trebizond sector.

VIENNA CLAIMS RUSSIANS

WERE FORCED OUT OF KUTY
Vienna, via London, June 24.—An Austro-Hungarian encircling advance has pressed the Russians out of Kut (Galicia), according to an Austrian official statement issued today.

In Volhynia the Austro-German forces are disputing the ground foot by foot north of the Lipa river, northeast of Gorochow and west and northwest of Torchin, where all the Russian counter attacks have been frustrated.

"Perry," by several young people and composed by J. E. L. Wynn, called the "Lesson of the Polka."

Eighty dollars in gold was given away to the winners of the prizes in contests which consisted of themes on various health subjects, sanitary methods and samples of cookery. The winners of the prizes read their papers to the audience.

After the regular programme was completed short talks were made by G. H. Currie and C. P. Parker and other citizens of the county on the beneficial results of the health campaign. After the interesting programme dinner was served on the court house square in picnic style.

Started by a Woman.
The moving spirit in this health awakening in Bladen county is Mrs. G. H. Currie, of Clarkton, and too much cannot be said of her untiring efforts in this cause. It was her energy and efforts that made the campaign possible, and the people were fortunate in having the services of Dr. T. M. Jordan who entered into the spirit of the work and has started a movement the effects of which will continue.

FAVETTEVILLE DAUGHTERS TO GIVE SOLDIER BOYS SEND-OFF

Meeting of Local Chapter Called by Mrs. McKethan for Monday.

(Special Star Telegram.)
Fayetteville, N. C., June 24.—Mrs. E. McKethan, president of the local chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy, today issued a call for a mass meeting of the women of Fayetteville Monday morning at 10 o'clock to formulate plans to give the National Guardsmen of this city a big send-off when they leave here Wednesday morning for Camp Glenn. The Daughters of the Confederacy are heading the movement to honor the boys called to the flag. The soldiers will be given lunches to carry with them, while other plans to show the women's appreciation of the patriotism of the boys in khaki will be worked out in the meeting Monday.

AT WORK TO BRING ABOUT MEDIATION

Bolivian Minister Inquires as to Whether Carranza Would Accept Such Course.

WAR WOULD BE CALAMITY

This is View Latin American Diplomats Take of Threatening Clash With Mexico—United States Not Open to Mediation.

Washington, June 24.—Minister Ignacio Calderon, of Bolivia, speaking for several South and Central American republics, today asked Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, whether the Carranza government would be willing to accept mediation in the crisis between the United States and Mexico. The Mexican Ambassador said he would communicate the inquiry to General Carranza but that he was not empowered to make a reply at this time.

Mr. Calderon failed to see Secretary Lansing today on the same mission but announced tonight that he expected to direct a similar inquiry to the American government Monday.

What form the inquiry from Minister Calderon took was not disclosed tonight. His conference probably will be followed by others Sunday between Latin American representatives to the United States. Ambassador Naon, of Argentina, returned tonight with the authorization of his government to propose mediation. Dr. Gonzalez Cordova, the Ecuadorian minister, is expected tomorrow to discuss the subject with Minister Zaldivar, of Salvador.

It was indicated tonight that Mr. Calderon asked his government several days ago to authorize him to take part in any mediation negotiations. Immediately upon receiving the authorization he conferred with other Latin American diplomats and then took up the subject with Mr. Arredondo. It was understood tonight that all the South and Central American representatives approached by Mr. Calderon agreed with him that a conflict between the United States and Mexico would be a calamity and that the American and Mexican governments should be asked whether they would be willing to accept mediation.

MINISTER OF ECUADOR TO CONFER WITH DIPLOMATS

New York, June 23.—Gonzalo S. Cardova, minister from Ecuador to the United States, announced through his secretary tonight that he would leave for Washington late tonight or early tomorrow to confer with other South American diplomats in an effort to bring about mediation between the United States and Mexico.

Romulo E. Naon, Argentine ambassador to the United States, left for Washington late today, accompanied by his secretary. Dr. Cardova said he had received instructions from Senator R. E. Ellabee, the foreign minister of Ecuador, directing him to confer with the other diplomats and stating he had sent messages to the foreign ministers of all Latin American countries urging them to direct their representatives in Washington to use their good offices in an effort to avert a conflict.

OFFER SERVICES TO EFFECT AN AMICABLE SETTLEMENT

Mexico City, June 24.—The governments of six nations have sent telegrams of sympathy to Mexico and have offered their good offices toward effecting an amicable arrangement of the difficulties between Mexico and the United States. Foreign Minister Aguilar made this announcement today, stating that messages of this purport had been received by him from the governments of Chile, Argentina, Ecuador, Salvador, Honduras and Spain.

Two regiments of infantry, one cavalry troop and artillery and supply units are now in camp awaiting mustering into the Federal service.

GORE BLOCKS CONSIDERATION OF THE MEXICO PAY BILL

Washington, June 24.—Objection by Senator Gore blocked immediate consideration in the Senate today of a bill introduced by Senator Reed to increase the pay of enlisted men of the National Guard while in the Federal service to $30 and resulted in a bitter argument between the two senators. Senator Gore declared that to pass such a measure was to capitalize patriotism and notify the militiamen that they would be regarded as "sunshine patriots." This drew a vigorous denunciation from the Missouri senator, who said it was unworthy of his colleague to "sit behind a mahogany desk and sneer at young men in khaki uniforms preparing to defend their country." The resolution was referred to the Military committee.

POLITICS IN ROBESON

Brown Clubs Are Active—Negro Dwellers Desired by Fire.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)
Lumberton, N. C., June 24.—Messrs. Stephen McIntyre, H. E. Stacy and others addressed the Brown Club at Back Swamp tonight. Their speeches were well received and much enthusiasm prevailed. Mr. Brown will speak here Wednesday night and Mr. McIntyre will speak at Maxton the same night. The Brown Club of Rowland will give a big barbecue in that town next Friday. Several prominent speakers will be present. The home of Curran Jones, colored, half a mile west of town, was destroyed by fire at 9 o'clock tonight. The family was away from home but neighbors saved a part of the furniture.

hina City, as a state of war does not now exist between the United States and Mexico. He urged that a demand be made that the captured troops be sent to Juarez for transfer to United States authorities.

Fear for More's Men.
It was assumed by officers at headquarters here that Captain Morey, in spite of his wound, was able to lead his men into the adobe house.

Several of his men probably also were wounded and circled by a ring of fire. Cut off from water and without food, it is feared that Carranza could not hold out until reinforcements reached them, even if they were able to stave off and hold in check the Mexican attacks. It is believed at headquarters here that the men found at San Luis ranch took part in at least a part of the fight at Carrizal. It is thought probable they were cut off from the other Americans and forced to flee to escape capture or certain death. Plans were completed today for the disposition of the National Guardsmen of New York, Massachusetts, and New Jersey. General Funston received word from General Leonard today that the troops of these states would be ready to start for the border Wednesday.

ROCKY MOUNT SOLDIER BOYS GIVEN FAREWELL BY Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Livingston Johnson Makes Impressive Talk at Supper.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Rocky Mount, N. C., June 24.—Fifty-four members of Company A, Second Regiment, North Carolina National Guard, made up in this city, were the guests of the Young Men's Christian Association last night and a sumptuous repast and impressive service was enjoyed by the men in khaki. At 8:30 the entire company under the command of Lieutenant J. D. Winston marched to the building, stacked arms and filed into the dining room where they were served a regulation Y. M. C. A. dinner.

After the dinner Secretary Finch presented each man with a pocket testament urging him to study the same as life tactics as they would the United States infantry tactics which they must know if they are to become efficient soldiers. Dr. Livingston Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church, was introduced to give the boys the message of the evening, which was that if war did result from the present conditions our country had not sought conquest but rather had been forced into a war of defense. He also spoke of the personal duty on preparedness during the passage "be ye also ready" and urging the men to lead such lives that they might honor their country and their friends and also be prepared for all the emergencies of life.

All stood for prayer in which divine protection was asked for the boys, that they might be kept physically and morally and if possible given a safe return if called into active service, but that whatever came into their lives they might acquit themselves as men.

MR. GEO. L. HODGES DEAD

Well Known Citizen of Kinston Passes Away After Long Illness.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Kinston, N. C., June 23.—George L. Hodges, a well known citizen of Kinston, died at his home in West Kinston following a long spell of poor health. Heart trouble is said to have caused his demise. He was a native of the section and related to many prominent persons. His wife, who survives, is a daughter of the late Dr. Frank Rountree, a noted physician. Two daughters, Miss Alice Hodges, of this city, and Mrs. H. P. Walters, of Wilson, and three half-brothers, Dr. J. M. Hodges, of LaGrange; Mr. Robert G. Hodges, of Palling Creek, and Mr. Paul A. Hodges, of Kinston, survive him. His amiability was a chief characteristic of Mr. Hodges. Thousands knew and liked him. He was fond of companionship. He held the office of registrar of deeds of Lenoir county for several years. In recent years Mr. Hodges held a position under the census bureau as a collector of manufacturing statistics in this State.

GOLDSBORO "CLEANING UP"

Eight Inhabitants of Segregated District Convicted and Fined.

Goldsboro, N. C., June 23.—Acting under the instructions of Mayor Higgins police officers Hart, Ward and others, "rounded up" the inhabitants of the "red light" district in this city this week, and eight of them were convicted and fined. The cost of $50 imposed in addition to the costs. In the course of the trial Mayor Higgins informed the defendants that in the future the Chief of Police would visit such places and issue warrants for the inmates from time to time, and should they appear before him again for disorderly conduct they would be severely dealt with.

MR. W. C. BOONE IN CHINA.

Former Robesonian Writes Friends at Kinston.

Kinston, N. C., June 24.—W. C. Boone, a former farm demonstration agent located here, is now in the eastern part of China to teach tobacco culture to the native farmers. Boone is under contract for number of years and is in the employ of a tobacco company which, with others, is striving to develop the tobacco industry in the Orient. Boone in a letter to friends here stated that the prospects were pleasant. Disembarking at Shanghai he had to travel a day and a half into the interior to reach his station.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Rube Oldling, veteran outfielder of the Philadelphia American baseball team, will retire from baseball on July 1st, according to a message received here tonight from Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics. Oldling is 32 years old and has been a member of the Athletics for ten years.

Buenos Aires, June 24.—The government of Peru has sought the opinion of the Argentine government concerning the difficulties between the United States and Mexico. President De La Plaza told Minister Martinez that he held a conference concerning telegrams received from other South American republics on the same subject.

Newport News, Va., June 24.—The annual convention of the Virginia Bankers' Association, in session at Old Point for the past three days, closed tonight with speeches tacitly endorsing the policy of the administration. Next year's meeting place will be selected by the executive committee.

London, June 24.—A Lloyd's despatch from Genoa reports the sinking of the Italian bark Gabriele D'Alai. The Gabriele D'Alai, 2,291 tons, was last reported as having arrived at Genoa March 25 from Baltimore.

DEMAND WILL BE MADE THAT CARRANZA REPUDIATE ATTACK AT CARRIZAL

mination of the United States to protect its people and territory.

Ambassador Naon, of Argentina, who was a leader in the movement to recognize the Carranza de facto government during the Pan American conferences as to Mexico, is understood to have advised his government last night that the circumstances did not lend themselves to a mediation proposal at this time. He came here yesterday from New York and saw State Department officials and returned to Washington again late tonight. A report reached here today that Carranza and his cabinet had prepared a reply to the last American note rejecting his demand that American troops be withdrawn from Mexico, but it did not say when it would be sent. State officials were not inclined to credit it.

Ambassador Arredondo had no intimation that a reply had been reached or even that a decision had been reached by his government as to its next step. Special Agent Rodgers at the Mexican capital has reported inability as yet to give an inkling as to what may be expected from Carranza. If a report has been received in the brief time Carranza has had to study it, officials are inclined to believe it forebodes a hostile answer.

Private advices today were that General Carranza was still strongly inclined toward a peaceful termination of the present situation, feeling that Villa is solely responsible for the grave crisis, and that war would mean the fulfillment of all Villa hoped for when he ordered the dash over the line at Columbus, N. M.

War Preparations Continue.
While the diplomatic status of the situation shifted and changed today with every hour, if rumors were to be credited, the steps of the War Department to get ready continued. Word came of the mustering into the Federal service of the Oregon National Guard company, the first unit of the state troops to be enrolled. Reports of progress so far give no basis for an accurate estimate of the time it will take to get the whole force to the Mexican border.

The effort to speed up mobilization further through the Hay resolution adopted yesterday in the House met with delay in the Senate. The military committee reported out the measure, amended but still containing the draft and consolidation sections which are regarded as of vital importance. On account of a message of objection, however, the Senate did not act and the authority the resolution will confer cannot be granted now before Monday.

The War Department awaits impatiently the passage which because of its consolidated provisions. Days, perhaps weeks of delay in sending General Funston additional troops would be saved, it is estimated, under this plan.

Divert Munitions From Allies.
It became known today that arrangements are being perfected for diverting large shipments of machine guns and ammunition manufactured for certain of the allied European powers to the American army. They are urgently needed to equip fully the guard regiments.

Agents of the allies have informed the government that their contracts in this country will be subordinated to the needs of the American army. This will enable American contractors to turn over to the War Department some of their products as are needed without making necessary any legal commandeering step.

Definite Plan for Invasion.
While no statement is available of alternative plans should Carranza support the act of his commander at Carrizal and precipitate hostilities, there are indications that the complete military occupation of all northern Mexico would be ordered. War Department officials are believed to have had a definite plan of action mapped out for years, although it has been guarded as a military secret of utmost importance.

With enough National Guardsmen rushed to the border to relieve regulars now on patrol duty, an accelerated well equipped force is believed to be available immediately for the preliminary moves.

It would be sufficient, officers believed to see and hold strategic points while the remainder of the guard was assembled and necessary volunteer regiments organized. There is every indication that President Wilson, if force is not brought to bear, will attempt to make short, sharp work of it by weight of superior numbers, equipment and resources.

Americans continue to hasten out of Mexico by every possible route. The colony in Mexico City virtually has been transferred to Vera Cruz. Most of those left will be out in the next day or two. Indications are that all United States troops have not resolved to stay where they are will be out of Mexico in less than a week.

Waukegan, Ill., June 24.—The defendant in the case of Will H. Orpet, charged with the murder of Milton Lambert, was overruled by Judge Donnelly today when it asked that the case be taken from the jury and the defendant discharged.

The defendant was taken up with arguments on the motion, and court adjourned until Monday.

"Reason-Why" Tires

GOODRICH "Barefoot" Tires are light-weight, and close grained.

This proves them relatively free from the usual inert substances or "fillers," that give excess Weight, stiffness, and grind, to Tire-treads.

More than 200 different Makes and Brands of Motor-Car, and Truck, Tires were manufactured and sold in U. S. A. last year, 1915.

These totaled about 12,000,000 Tires. Of that 12,000,000 total Tires, the B. F. Goodrich Co. made and sold one-fourth.

Yet—Tires are only one of the 267 different lines of Rubber Goods made by the Goodrich Rubber Factory, which is the largest in the World, with a 47-year Experience.

This indicates the "Reason-Why" Goodrich Best-in-the-Market Fabric Tires can be, and are, sold to Consumers (via Dealers) at the lowest prices in America, per delivered Mile of Performance.

PREPAREDNESS

—What Is the Meaning of the Word?

IT MEANS — have you PREPARED against all emergencies? Have you PREPARED against sickness, death in your family, loss of your job or other unforeseen drawbacks?

Young Men: Are you Spending More than you should, instead of putting something aside for a RAINY DAY?

If you are married, are you looking out for your loved ones by establishing a RESERVE FUND?

Young Women: Are you putting aside a SMALL amount, weekly or monthly, out of your earnings, to take care of yourself in sickness or loss of position?

"A stitch in time saves nine." 25c saved weekly means $100.00 at a time when you will need that hundred dollars the most.

The Following Telegrams and Letter is Our Reply to the False Charge Against Hon. Hannibal L. Godwin, by His Opponent's Forces, in Which They Claim Mr. Godwin Has Not Supported President Wilson and the Democratic Administration, Along With Testimony of His Faithful Work for His Constituents:

THE PRESIDENT'S TELEGRAM

Annapolis, Md., June 2nd, 1916.

Hon. John C. Clifford, Dunn, N. C.

Am glad to reply that Mr. Godwin has been a staunch supporter of the administration and has won the confidence of all of us.

WOODROW WILSON.

Hon. F. M. Simmons.

North Carolina's Senior Senator.

Washington, D. C.,

June 20th, 1916.

W. H. Blair,

Wilmington, N. C.

Your wire 19th received. Yes, Mr. Godwin has loyally supported the administration and in my opinion has faithfully represented his constituents.

F. M. SIMMONS.

HON. HANNIBAL L. GODWIN

Hon. Champ Clark.

Speaker of the House of Representatives

Washington, D. C.,

June 19th, 1916.

W. H. Blair,

Wilmington, N. C.:

Godwin has made faithful representative. Number roll calls four hundred and fifty-seven.

CHAMP CLARK.

HON. CLAUDE KITCHIN

(Chairman of Ways and Means Committee)

Mr. C. C. Bellamy,
Wilmington, N. C.:

Dear Mr. Bellamy:—

In reply to your letter, will say that the statement of Congressman Godwin, that he was paired on the recent vote in the House on the Shipping bill, is true. Before Mr. Godwin left Washington, I arranged for him to pair with Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, and gave my full consent for him to go to his District.

Further replying, Mr. Godwin has loyally stood by the Administration and the Democratic organization of the House in all his votes, and has been most diligent in looking out for the interest of his District.

With best wishes, and kind regards, I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,

CLAUDE KITCHIN.

Now Fellow Citizens, you could not expect an opponent to say many good things for Mr. Godwin, could you? The reason is plain:—one could not expect to gain votes for himself by preaching truthful "Godwin Doctrine," and so, chooses for his sermon a text which would mis-lead.

President Wilson endorses Mr. Godwin. Hon. Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives endorses Mr. Godwin. Hon. F. M. Simmons, North Carolina's Senior Senator, and Chairman of the Finance Committee, the most powerful position in the Senate endorses Mr. Godwin. Hon. Claude Kitchin, majority leader in the House of Representatives endorses Mr. Godwin.

If you are a true Democrat, this should be sufficient evidence that the Hon. H. L. Godwin ought to be returned to Congress.

COUNCIL TIGHTENS THE SUNDAY REGULATIONS

With View to Stopping Cigar Stores Opening on Sabbath.

New Ordinances Adopted at Special Session Yesterday Places Further Restrictions on Sunday Selling in City.

Steps were taken towards tightening up the restrictions on Sunday selling in Wilmington at a special meeting of City Council yesterday afternoon when revised ordinances were adopted increasing the penalty from $10 to $25 for violating the regulations and eliminating clauses in the old ordinances which allowed stores to sell cigars, cigarettes and tobacco and permitted the sale of soft drinks in places where such articles are usually sold on week days.

The ordinances, published elsewhere in today's Star, which were prepared by City Attorney Robert Ruark, were presented by Councilman McCaig and unanimously adopted by the members of Council present, these being Councilmen Merritt, Hall, McCaig and Bunting. Mayor Moore presided at the meeting, which was held at 3:30 o'clock. Councilmen Jones and Bradshaw were not present.

The new ordinances prohibit the selling of goods, merchandise or wares by stores and shops from 12 o'clock on Saturday night to 12 o'clock on Sunday night but provides that the section shall not be construed to apply to hotels or boarding houses or to restaurants or cafes whose principal business is that of furnishing meals to guests, where such places are not otherwise restrained by law from being open on Sunday, and, further, that it shall not be construed to apply to drug stores.

Regularly licensed news stands, licensed ice dealers, licensed dairies, licensed dealers in ice cream selling and delivering in quantities of not less than a quart and licensed bakeries are also excepted from the list of places that may not open on Sunday. It is further provided that nothing in the ordinance shall be construed as prohibiting licensed livery stables and garages from hiring out vehicles, nor to prohibit the publication of newspapers on the streets and public places in the city by newsmen.

It is expressly provided that under the ordinance no person, firm or corporation shall conduct or keep open in the city any restaurant or cafe on Sunday except as especially designated in the regulations and then only when such restaurants or cafes are regularly conducted on other days of the week. The prohibition of the sale of newspapers on the streets in the residential sections has been in effect for some time past. However, the new ordinances prohibit also the sale of papers during the hours when church services are in progress.

The new ordinances are designed to stop the expressed intention on the part of some of the merchants in the city, notably dealers in cigars and cigarettes and tobacco, to have a "wide open" Sunday. Under the old ordinance there apparently was plenty of leeway given for Sunday selling of soft drinks, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco, but it can be stated on good authority that many Wilmington attorneys believe that the old ordinance was in direct conflict with the State law and could not, therefore, be enforced.

At the regular weekly meeting of Council on last Wednesday afternoon a resolution was made by the United Cigar Store in Wilmington for a license to operate a dairy lunch counter, the object of the request as frankly stated being to keep the place open on Sunday. This request was refused by Council and since that time it has been rumored that the place would be opened on Sunday anyway as it was felt that inasmuch as the drug stores, restaurants and cafes sell cigars, tobacco and soft drinks on Sunday, it was felt that this was an undue discrimination. However, the manager stated yesterday afternoon that he could neither deny or confirm the rumor. At the time the application was made by the United Cigar Store for license to operate a dairy lunch counter, other cigar dealers in the city stated that if such was done that they would insist on their right to do the same thing.

WHITE ROAD MACHINE.

Demonstrator Here for Use on County Roads—Big Machine.

A big five-ton White combination road machine and truck has been shipped here to Mr. Katz, a special representative of the White Company, for a demonstration on the roads of New Hanover county and it is being arranged to give a demonstration somewhere in the county on Tuesday of this week. The machine is not only a five-ton truck, but it has all the attachments for hoisting, for road plows, for scraper and all other modern attachments now used in road building.

It was at first planned to have this big machine here for demonstrating to the State Good Roads Association, but a demonstration in Richmond, Va., could not be completed in time, so the truck did not reach here until yesterday. Several of these large machines have already been sold in the State and elsewhere and will be added to the road equipment of several counties in the east.

CHARLOTTE SECRETARY HERE

Mr. James R. Kinloe, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Pleasant With City. Mr. James R. Kinloe, secretary of the Charlotte chamber of Commerce, has been spending a few days in the city attending the annual meeting of the North Carolina Good Roads Association. He recently came to this state from Minnesota, where he was actively engaged in commercial work several years. Mr. Kinloe was very enthusiastic in his praise of the good roads meeting and was especially delighted with the visit to Wrightsville Beach as an ideal place for conventions. Mr. John L. Scott, one of Charlotte's progressive citizens, accompanied Mr. Kinloe and they had a most pleasant and interesting stay in Wilmington and at the beach.

STATE BAR CONVENTION AT BEACH THIS WEEK

B. Y. P. U. WORKERS TO HEAR DR. SPILMAN

At Closing Session of Convention This Afternoon

Gastonia Selected for Next Meeting Place—Officers Elected—Banner Awarded to New Bern—Mr. White Speaks.

Having selected Gastonia as the convention city for 1917 and elected officers for the ensuing year, the seventh and most successful annual State convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of North Carolina will hold its final session this afternoon in the First Baptist church of Wilmington, when the principal speaker will be Rev. B. W. Spilman, D. D., of Kingston.

Last night's session was featured by a splendid address by Rev. Lee M. White, of Monroe, the election of officers for the ensuing year and the presentation of the B. Y. P. U. Banner which was won this year by the Union of the Tabernacle church of New Bern.

The subject of Mr. White's address, which was heard with great interest by the delegates, was "Our Aim: Training in Church Membership." The speaker declared it should be the aim of every worker to make himself more efficient, which, he said, was nothing less than doing the thing in hand in the very best way to get the largest results. As he was talking to church members, he made the address particularly vital to them by pointing out that the B. Y. P. U. work should train them for effective work as members of their individual churches. The speaker declared that he first got his vision for Christian service in the B. Y. P. U. He emphasized the necessity of living in purity and loving Christ above even the love of country.

One of the features of the evening session was a very interesting demonstration by the Junior Boys and Girls of the Raleigh City Union, led by Mr. E. R. Carroll.

Resolutions Adopted. The following resolutions presented by the resolutions committee, of which Mr. J. Elmer Van Hook was chairman, were adopted by the convention:

"Whereas, the Baptist Young People's Union convention is coming to the close of its most successful session, and

"Whereas, the success is due in a great measure to certain of its members and to the hospitality of the citizens of Wilmington;

"Therefore, Be It Resolved that we extend to the churches and all citizens of Wilmington who have contributed to our cordial welcome an eloquent and genuine hospitality extended to the delegates while in their midst; a sincere vote of thanks.

"That we express our sincere gratitude for the services of our State officers, our president, Mr. L. B. Olive, who for the past two years has contributed so much to the success of our conventions and also for the interest of all who have taken part in the programme.

"That we extend a vote of thanks to Mr. E. L. Middleton for his efforts in securing reduced rates from the railroads to the convention city.

The resolutions which read in part as given above also express appreciation to the daily newspapers of Wilmington for the space given to the proceedings of the convention and to the Biblical Recorder for its work in behalf of the convention.

Resolution Awarded. The State B. Y. P. U. banner was awarded last night to the Tabernacle church of New Bern, but the contest was very close between this Union and its nearest competitor, the Union of the First Church of Raleigh. The banner was presented on behalf of the Banner committee by Mr. Walter Wright, of Greensboro, and accepted for the New Bern Union by Mr. Hugh Rhodes in an appropriate speech. Mr. Rhodes stated that his Union had expected to win the banner when the convention was held at Mr. Airy's home a year or so ago, and at that time a young lady delegate had prepared a very graceful speech in acceptance, but that this time he must be excused from any extended remarks as no speech had been prepared.

Next Session at Gastonia. The committee on place of next meeting reported in favor of Gastonia, and their report was adopted by the convention.

In accordance with the recommendations of the committee on nominations of officers, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, L. Bunn Olive, of Apex; vice presidents, J. E. Van Hook, of Washington; Sam Coward, of New Bern; J. W. Hollis, of Wilmington; Robert J. Wilson, of Raleigh; John Lawrence, of West Asheville; recording secretary, Miss Beulah Bowden, of Charlotte; treasurer, Walter Wright, of Greensboro; auditor, Oscar Stallings, of Durham.

Morning Session. One of the features of the morning session of the convention yesterday was an address by Mr. E. R. Carroll, director of the

SOCIAL AFFAIRS OF INTEREST

ENJOYED AT MOUNT OLIVE

Mount Olive, N. C., June 24.—Wednesday afternoon, from 4 to 5:30 o'clock, Miss Susan Burton entertained the "Busy Bee Sewing Club" at her home. Members were present and, after an hour of talking, sewing, etc., there was a floral wedding contest, in which Miss Mattie Wilson won the prize, a lovely box of home-made candy. Miss Boush Cobb rendered several piano solos. The hostess, assisted by Misses Cora Miller and Mattie Wilson, served refreshments. Unique in every feature was the party given Miss Lucy Whitaker at her home Friday evening from 9 until 11:30. The porch was decorated with ferns and other pot flowers. The room was beautifully decorated with trailing festoons of ivy, ferns and other cut flowers. One very pleasant feature of the evening was instrumental music. Suddenly the music was hushed and the merry party invited into the dining room, where they all enjoyed a course of cream and cake.

Pender Chronicle, Burgaw: "Mr. Charlie Johnson and Miss Louise Moore motored through to Wrightsville Beach last Tuesday afternoon.—Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Taylor will move this week into the residence which has heretofore been occupied by Mr. H. L. Smith, Jr., on Walker street.—Mr. James Bordeaux and Miss Sue J. Myers and Miss Edith Herring, of Aulander, spent last Tuesday afternoon and evening at Wrightsville Beach.—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bland, Jr., Mrs. C. C. Branch, and Mrs. Carle Goode, Bugz, with children and nurse, motored through to Wrightsville Beach last Tuesday, where they spent the day.—Messrs. J. W. Bland and R. G. Johnson returned from a house party at White Lake, in Bladen county, on last Sunday night. They report a most delightful time.—Messrs. Neal Moore, James Bordeaux and Miss Margaret Crowell and Mary Miller Johnson accompanied Miss Margaret High as far as Wilmington on her way to Whiteville, Monday afternoon via automobile.—Mr. Edward T. Burton, recently nominated for county solicitor at New Hanover county, by the Democratic party, spent a day or two last week in Burgaw, visiting relatives and friends."

SOUTHPORT SOCIAL NOTES

AND PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Southport, N. C., June 24.—Motoring to Wrightsville to attend the Good Roads convention has been a social feature of the week, parties from here going each day. Mrs. J. D. Dasher, Mrs. Dasher and daughter and Miss Ellen Windsor made up one party, while Mr. Warren Hood with a party of gentlemen friends, Messrs. Sam Northrup, Geo. H. Gray, Fred Smith and Mayor Joe Ruark were another party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Goldfinch, of Conway, S. C., are here on a visit at the home of their son, Mr. A. K. Goldfinch, assistant cashier of the Bank of Southport.

Miss Mary Butler, of Edgeland, S. C., arrived this week to spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. J. A. W. Thompson. Mrs. Butler and Mr. Butler and James Thompson have come to spend the summer with her parents, coming from South Carolina, where they have been at school.

Rev. Lloyd Holloway, of the Baptist church, has returned from a business trip to Tiffin, Ohio.

Dr. J. H. McIntosh, of Columbia, S. C., is here on his usual annual visit, a guest at Miss Kate's. Mr. C. McRae, of Fayetteville, N. C., his sister, Mrs. McRae, and children, are also at Miss Kate's.

INTERESTING WEDDING AND

OTHER KINSTON SOCIAL EVENTS

Kinston, N. C., June 24.—Mr. Thomas Hartsfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hartsfield, and Miss Glenwood E. Ellington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ellington, were married at 5 p. m. Tuesday in the study of Pastor H. A. Humble at Queen Street Methodist church. A very few relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Mr. Humble. Shortly afterward the couple left for West Carolina to spend the honeymoon.

An interesting visitor to the city this week was Miss Hattie, a missionary among the Indians of the northwest. She lectured to an audience comprised largely of women in Gordon Street Christian church Wednesday night.

Chautauqua, which was concluded here during the first half of the week, furnished a pleasing diversion for local society. On Tuesday night a clever cast presented "The Mikado."

The hostess took most of the local families to the mountains and to the shore who had delayed leaving Kinston in continuing their vacation. Kinston is continuing liberally to the summer colonists at several seaside resorts and has many representatives in the mountains now.

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF

MR. AND MRS. MAXLEY G. LEE

Lumberton, N. C., June 24.—Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Pope entertained on Tuesday evening from 8:30 to 11 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Maxley G. Lee. Guests were welcomed at the door by Miss Lina Gough and Mr. Lawrence Parker and were presented to the receiving line by Mrs. D. D. French. The receiving line consisted of Mrs. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Folger. Mrs. French conducted the guests from the receiving line into the dining room, where ice cream and cake were served by Misses Lee and Myrtle Pope and Sarah Branch. From the dining room the guests were conducted to the sitting room by Miss Marie Linkhaw and Mr. Ell Wishart. Here the punch bowl was presided over by Miss Sadie Rae Pope and Mr. Preston Cashwell.

The home was tastefully decorated with ferns and pink roses, the color scheme being green and pink.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Carlyle furnished delightful music throughout the evening.

Miss Mary Pope and Mr. Elwood Whaley led the guests from the punch bowl to the door and received the farewells.

Quite a number of young people called during the evening and each one doubtless felt much indebted to their genial hostess for a most pleasant half hour.

BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING

CELEBRATED AT WANANISH

Wananish, N. C., June 24.—The Methodist church here presented an interesting scene to the many friends gathered from near and far Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock to witness the wedding ceremony uniting Miss L. Rena Council, daughter of Mr. C. K. Council, to Mr. Charles O'Hagan Horne, of Greenville, N. C. The church was beautifully decorated. The scheme of pink and white was perfected with roses and carnations on a background of the altar were improvised columns of smilax and ferns. At each side crowned with pink carnations, while just above hung a pure white nosegay. Myriads of candles shed a soft pink glow everywhere.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Louise McQueen, in her own charming manner, sang "Constancy and Because," accompanied on the piano by Miss Bessie Powell who rendered the Wedding March from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered, first, the ushers, Mr. Kinchen Council, Jr., and Mr. Lewis G. Cooper, for John, by Mr. Gower girls, Misses Dorothy Council and Nora Thompson, in white lingerie dresses with pink sashes. Next came the bride of honor, Mrs. R. V. Troy, sister of the bride, in white embroidered net with picture hat, carrying a bouquet of brides roses. Then Master Laurie Dempsey, in white, carrying the ring on a silver tray, preceded the bride, who was lovely in a traveling suit of midnight blue with accessories to match, entering on the arm of her brother, Mr. George Council. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. John Horne.

The melodious notes of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" blended harmoniously with the effective words spoke by the Bishop T. C. Dasher, the bride's strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the party left the church.

Immediately Mr. and Mrs. Horne motored to Wilmington from which place they go to a northern tour, of returning they will make their home at Greenville, N. C.

The bride is a young lady of fine character and will be greatly missed by many friends here. The groom is a prominent pharmacist of Greenville. They carry with them the good wishes of all. Scores of handsome gifts served to show in what high esteem they are held by those who know them.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Edwards, Misses Louise McQueen and Annie Mae Sykes, Mr. James McQueen, of Durham, S. C.; Mrs. D. F. Sanderson, Master Deland Sanderson, Whiteville, N. C.; Mrs. L. M. Dempsey, Master Laurie Dempsey, and Mrs. R. C. Liverman, Boardman, N. C.; Miss Rhea Troy, Bolton, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. L. Council and Miss Doris Council, Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Troy, Master Spellman and Miss Pauline Troy, of Charleston, S. C.

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL AFFAIRS

THE PAST WEEK AT WARSAW

Warsaw, N. C., June 23.—Mrs. Henry L. Stevens was at home in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Duncan De Vane Walker, a recent bride, of Macon, Ga., in one of the most delightful and elaborate receptions of the season, which was given at Mrs. Stevens' home Wednesday afternoon from five to seven. Mrs. D. E. Best received the guests at the door of the reception hall, which like the parlor was decorated in a color scheme of green and white. Mrs. Best introduced the guests to Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Walker, after which they were requested to register the names of the guests. The evening was most enjoyable, presided over by Miss Aldine Best.

Mrs. R. Herbert Best then conducted them to the dining room, whose color scheme was pink and white, carried out by an abundance of sweet peas. Here, Mrs. Charles Chambers and Miss Elizabeth Moore were receiving and Misses Lou M. Faison and Bettie Hunter served an ice course in pink and white, sweet peas being used as a garnish. In the library, a color scheme of red and yellow was effected by a profusion of nasturtiums. In this room, Misses Pearl Best, Barbara Best, Cora Best, and Misses Olivia Best and Brookline Hines served delightful punch. Nearly a hundred guests called during the afternoon, the out-of-town ones including Mrs. Joseph Johnson, of Atlanta; Miss Lillian Massenburg, of Louisville; Mrs. Beene, of Charleston, S. C.

Miss Mattie Beth Prigden entertained the young friends in honor of her ninth birthday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Parke Prigden, on last Saturday afternoon from five till seven. Out-door games were enjoyed by the young people for some time, after which ice cream and cake and fruit were served by Mrs. Prigden. Little Miss Prigden received many attractive gifts from her young friends in the large number of parties who came to the delightful spot. That tells enough!

In order to have your provisions on the grounds when you reach your camping place, what you don't care to take with you, you can send a list to Mr. Ralph Melvin, and he will have eatables of all kinds awaiting you. He makes it more comfortable than any camping places. Mr. Melvin has erected a large lodge, or camp house, with twenty beds. This house is divided into five rooms, besides a sitting room, dining room and kitchen. There is a large supply of crockery, knives, forks and spoons, which goes with the rent of the house, which is reasonable. A self-playing piano is played at any time, day or evenings, for the young people to dance.

The meeting of the Christian Endeavor, which was held Monday night in the Presbyterian church, was in charge of the society committee, Mr. Jennie Boney, leader. It was an open meeting, which made the programme very interesting. Afterwards the social meeting was held at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Turner. After various games and music a delicious course of ice cream and cake was served. At the next regular meeting, which will be next Monday night, there will be the election of officers for the new year.

Dr. E. J. Wood, of Wilmington, was in town Wednesday night on professional business.

DR. DURHAM D. KING WEDS MISS KITTIE CLARK, OF CLARKTON

Clarkton, N. C., June 24.—One of the most attractive of June weddings took place in Clarkton Wednesday afternoon, June 22nd, when Miss Kittie Clark, of Clarkton, became the bride of Dr. Durham D. King, of Lumberton. Mrs. King, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Clark, is known and loved by all the people of her home town and all wish for her the greatest happiness. Dr. King is a well known dentist of Lumberton.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride at four o'clock in the afternoon. The guests were met at the door by the ushers, Dr. E. S. Clark and Dr. D. D. Clark, brothers of the bride, and invited into rooms made beautiful with decorations of roses, ivy and ferns. In the bay window at one end of the parlor was the place arranged for the bride and groom, and a hanging basket filled with overhanging pink and white roses, made a lovely setting for the coming event.

Promptly at four o'clock the pianist, Mrs. M. C. Stegall, was escorted to the piano by Dr. E. S. Clark. Mrs. Stegall was dressed in pure white and wore a lovely bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

Then came the chain girls, Misses Janie Russ and Elva Harrington, looking up, and Miss Amelia Wooten and Isabel Cromatie following, carrying chains of ivy interspersed with roses. The girls were charming in their costumes of blue and pink organdie with accordion pleated skirts.

The chain formed an aisle through which the ushers escorted the father and mother of the bride and the near relatives of the bride and groom to a place reserved especially for them.

The guests then turned expectantly to the door and were rewarded by the sight of six girls all in sweet white organdie dresses. The sang beautiful gave a delightful dance at the Country Club from nine to twelve o'clock.

Miss Clara Gant was hostess Monday morning to a number of her friends complimentary to several young women who are her house guests this week.

Rook was played at six tables, and an ice course was served.

Miss Margaret Shaffer entertained at rook Friday afternoon in compliment to two visiting young women, Miss Marjorie Lea, of Richmond, and Miss Dorothy Burwell, of Petersburg, Va. Miss Olive Longest won the prize for the high score.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hynes entertained a number of friends Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Hayes, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Floyd Lamb, of Durham.

The Parli Six Club met Thursday afternoon with Miss Mary Saunders on Morehead avenue, and a delightful meeting was held.

The Guilford Battle Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met with Mrs. John N. Staples Thursday afternoon, and after transacting all business, held a very enjoyable social hour.

Mrs. Frank Brooks entertained Friday evening the members of the "Every Other Wednesday" Club and their husbands. Progressive rook was played at eight tables, and a delicious ice course was served.

Miss Mabel Landreth entertained at rook Saturday morning for Miss Lillian Cardwell and Miss Annie Jones, of Madison, who are visiting Miss Margaret Rankin.

WALLACE PARTY SPENDS WEEK

OF DELIGHT AT WHITE LAKE

Wallace, N. C., June 23.—Those who composed the camping party to White Lake from Wallace last week are unanimous in the opinion that it was one of the most delightful outings and biggest days of their lives. The young couples and chaperones who went for recreation all found the very things they needed. The party was composed of Misses Ellis Register, Nina McIntire, Lillie Carter, Eawerette Ellsworth, Norma Carr, Geneva Quinn; Messrs. Fred Dees, Bill Husey, Fred Benton, Joe Sloan, of Wallace; Mr. Bland, Robert Grady Johnson, and Charlie Johnson, of Burgaw; chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bray, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Carroll. The little folks of the party were Mary Susan and William Carroll and Bill Harper.

This lake is a masterpiece of nature, but is far from being appreciated as it should be. It has a most beautiful natural beach, and just think of being able to see your own feet in the water, it matters not how far out you go. The sand, which is as white as can be, so it seems, is such that if an article is dropped in the water, such as silver money, fishing tackle, etc., several days later you can find it just where dropped.

As someone in writing of this beautiful lake a short while ago said, so we believe, "The idea of spending such an amount of money to make a lake, such as Lake Toxaway, when nature has provided our State with such a wonderful and beautiful lake as White Lake, which is equal to any anywhere." All that is needed to give it the fame which it deserves is accessibility. There is not a better spot anywhere to spend a quiet and at the same time pleasant vacation.

There are always several camping parties in close range of each other. There are both row and motor boats with which to visit across the lake. If a little of this old State's money could be spent here in the way of permanent improvement, such as a highway, it would make this place second to none in the South as a summer resort.

There have already been bought lots on which lodges and summer homes have been built, and more are expected to be erected before the summer is over. There are camping here now, and were others last week, parties who have for five to twelve years come to this delightful spot. That tells enough!

From Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Craig will go to West Union, S. C., this week, where they will probably spend the entire summer. As to their future plans Mr. Craig has made no announcement, but it is understood he has several calls under consideration.

COLORED WOMEN ARRESTED

ON SHOPLIFTING CHARGES

Hattie Benjamin and Edna Fields are arrested at Kress' Store.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last night, Mr. O. H. Shoemaker, manager of the local store of Kress & Company, notified the police department that he wished to prefer charges of larceny against two colored women whom he was handing prisoners.

The police patrol auto was dispatched to the store and Officer W. H. Keen took the women into custody. They were removed to the station and there in their handbags was found a quantity of plunder such as handkerchiefs, petticoats, lace and centerpieces for tables.

fully the bridal chorus, a lovely selection from the "Rose Maiden." The members of the chorus were Mrs. H. L. Jocelyn, of Raleigh; Mrs. H. H. Check, of Abbotstown, N. C.; Miss Lois Breen, of McCall, S. C.; Miss Fay Ritchie and Miss Rosa Lee Clark, of Clarkton, and Miss Myrtle Titman, of Lowell, N. C.

After the chorus, Mrs. Mason Wallace from Charlotte, a cousin of the bride, entered. All listened to her lovely voice with delight as she sang that sweet and appropriate song, "Until." Mrs. Wallace was dressed in white with a picture hat and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

As the last strain of the song died away, Miss Stegall began to play Tannhauser, and the bride and groom, with a bouquet of roses and sweet peas, entered. First came the ushers, Drs. E. S. and D. D. Clark, followed by Rev. W. H. Goodman, the bride's pastor, next Miss Alice Clark, sister of the bride, in rose colored taffeta, and lace with picture hat and corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas, with Mr. Lawrence Parker, of Lumberton.

These took their places with the bride and groom in the bay window. Then Dr. King, with his brother, Mr. Harvey King, entered and passed to the end of the aisle. Last of all came the bride on the arm of the maid of honor, her sister, Miss Amanda Clark. The maid of honor wore a pretty creation of rose-colored taffeta and georgette crepe, with a picture hat and corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The bride, lovely in her suit of blue cloth braided in black, her hat black, with trimmings of rose color. She carried an exquisite bouquet of bride's roses and ferns. She was met at the end of the aisle by Dr. King and they were then united in marriage in a most impressive way by Rev. W. H. Goodman.

Immediately after the ceremony there was an informal reception for the wedding guests. All eagerly awaited their turn to offer congratulations to the bride and groom. Then they passed to the next room where fruit and punch was served by Misses Sallie and Dora King, sisters of the groom, and Mrs. P. A. Harrington and Mrs. R. K. Craven, sisters of the bride. Here the guests also enjoyed seeing the beautiful bridal presents of china, brass, cut glass and silver.

An interesting feature of the occasion was the presence of the bride of Dr. E. S. Clark. Dr. and Mrs. Clark were married Tuesday and arrived in Clarkton Wednesday to be present at the wedding of their sister. Mrs. Clark looked charming in her dress of pink satin and lace with her bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Clark is well known to all the people here as Miss Mary Smith, who has been in Clarkton teaching for the past two winters.

Both couples left on the afternoon train, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Clark for Richmond, Va., and Dr. King with his bride for Asheville and other points in the North Carolina mountains.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. Leslie A. King, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King, and Misses Sallie and Dora King, all of Saint Paul, N. C.; Miss Myrtle Breen, McCall, S. C.; Mrs. J. G. Bowers, Beaufort, N. C.; Mrs. Mason Wallace, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Don McRacken and Mrs. Blanche Lewis, of Whiteville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Whitted, of Elizabethtown, N. C.; and Mrs. A. A. Clark, of Rosedale, N. C.; Messrs. Lawrence Parker and Harvey King, of Lumberton.

The Atlantic Coast Line has announced an excursion to be run to Lake Waccamaw on July 6th, but this is understood to be for the colored people, who will have their celebration on that day. It has long been the custom, says Mayor Council, for the negroes to have exclusive use of the picnic grounds at Lake Waccamaw on July 6th.

The "Fourth" at Lake Waccamaw this year will, therefore, be celebrated on the 4th and a record breaking crowd is expected to be on hand. These picnics are always most pleasant affairs and elaborate arrangements are being made to have the celebration no less a success than in previous years.

THE NATIONAL AID SOCIETY

Purpose of Organization for Rendering Assistance in Event of War Explained by Committee.

The Wilmington chapter of the National Special Aid Society, which was recently organized with a large and enthusiastic membership, has inaugurated a campaign for members who can aid in rendering assistance in the event of war and the publicity committee and officers of the organization have prepared a statement setting forth the purpose, plan and scope of the society. This statement is as follows:

"Shortly after the first call for help from Europe during 1914-1915 the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames organized a relief society to work in conjunction with organizations of that character in New York. Many ladies in the city not connected with the Colonial Dames assisted them in making dressings, bandages and emergency articles which were shipped to headquarters in New York in large quantities at stated intervals. The American Red Cross issued a National-wide appeal for supplies for its work and the Colonial Dames responded to it also, diverting part of their work into that channel. The articles were so well made that letters of appreciation made mention of the fact and complimented the workers for the excellent quality of workmanship shown in the manufacture of each article.

"This work of mercy which the Colonial Dames started at a time when every organization was adding its quota to the world's necessities is quite within its province, but the undertaking of patriotic work is one of the cardinal tenets of the National Society of Colonial Dames, and when the war clouds began to gather above our own beloved country, it became a duty as well as a privilege to turn our eyes toward America first in her possible extremity. Our relief work had prepared us for exactly the sort of help that the women of America would be called upon to give in an emergency and it was determined to start an organization in Wilmington that would be broad enough in its scope to enlist the activities of all women.

"We had many propositions offered us. We considered the Red Cross work among others, but we finally decided to form a chapter of the National Special Aid Society, and since we are urgently soliciting the membership of every woman in the city we wish to explain in detail the scope of this organization. It appeals to all women because it offers services of such diversified character that any woman in any sphere of life can qualify. There is a large department that works along Red Cross lines, but that work is necessarily of limited membership, because wage earners, bread winners, mothers of small children are not so situated that they can take active part in the First Aid Classes and in the meetings where bandages and dressings are made and demonstrations of their application furnished.

"The National Special Aid Society seeks to enroll in its membership every woman of America. The services it pledges reads as follows: 'We are anticipating neither a war nor a National calamity. If, however, it is ordained that our country be afflicted with either or both of these catastrophes it is necessary that the women of this great commonwealth should be prepared to do their part.'

"If, therefore, you can and will render service under any of the following classifications, please check opposite the particular item or items below:

"Agriculture—Gardening, farming, dairy, orchard and nursery, poultry raising.

"Clerical Service—Bookkeeping, stenography, messenger, agent.

"Manufacturing and Mechanical—Baker, cook, (a) diet cooking, sewing, printer, munition making, painter, managers and superintendents, factory work.

"Personal and Domestic Service—Care of children, housework, laundry work, janitress, hotel keepers and managers, reader, letter writing, instruction of blind, maimed, etc.; making surgical dressings.

"Professional Service—Nurse (trained); first aid, physician, pharmacist, teaching, engineer, lecturer, publicity work, (a) author, (b) journalist; dietitian, chiropodist, dentist, photographer, languages (translator).

"Public Service—Postmistress, mail carrier, patrol (police patrol).

"Transportation—Railroad personnel, (a) ticket agent, (b) conductor, (c) station master; motor car, (a) owner, (b) operator; motorcycle, (a) owner, (b) operator; motor car, (a) owner, (b) operator; horse, (a) owner, (b) driver; telegrapher, telephone operator.

"Trade—Clerk (stores, etc.).

"Construction—In the event of national need I will contribute: (a) home for convalescing capital; (b) ambulance; (c) motor car; (d) driver for car; (e) funds.

"We are convinced that every woman in town will find in the above occupations one or more suited to her own powers and abilities. In becoming a member she pays 25 cents, $1 or more annually as she is able, but the amount that she is able to give entitles her to membership. She is not required to do anything more than to tell what the organization may expect of her in the event of war. For instance, if she has a taste for gardening she can promise to cultivate so many square feet of ground raising the product required by the society. If she can sew she will promise to make garments required by the organization, or if she has no taste for either gardening or sewing she may be able and willing to cook for the injured. These duties are not supposed to interfere with the ordinary avocations of the woman and would not unless a National calamity overwhelmed us such as has befallen northern France.

"We wish to reiterate the fact that the Wilmington chapter of the National Special Aid Society, although started under the auspices of the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames, is by no means limited in membership to the aforesaid society. The Colonial Dames have offered the use of their rooms which are located in the basement of the Bellamy residence on the corner of Fifth and Market streets, but the membership consists already of more than 70 women, not half of whom are connected with the Colonial Dames Society. The chairman is Mrs. A. M. Waddell and inquiries may be addressed to her at her residence, No. 110 South Fifth avenue or by phone, 550-W.

"In this connection we wish to invite any units which may be formed under the auspices of the Red Cross to make use of these rooms either with the chapter of the National Special Aid or at such times as their needs may require. Hospital supplies furnished by this chapter will be turned over to the local Red Cross to be

Pioneer Promoter of Baptist Seaside Assembly

Hon. John A. Oates, of Fayetteville, is probably more responsible than any other one person in the State for the inception of the movement to establish the Baptist Seaside Assembly of North Carolina. He attended the Assembly of the Virginia Baptists at Virginia Beach for several years and was a member of the executive board. It occurred to him that what Virginia Baptists were doing North Carolina Baptists could do as well or better. So he began to talk the matter with other representative Baptists of the State and finally the Baptist State Convention, of which he is now the president, decided to establish such an institution. Mr. Oates is chairman of the executive committee of the Seaside Assembly, which will be held at Wrightsville Beach this week.

MAJOR BUTLER MAKES REPORT ON HIGHWAY

(Continued From Page Five.) as forgetful of the holes and bumps they got on the way as the circumstances will afford, with the accept on the Ford, and the hope and expectation of riding over the finest sand-clay highway in the State from Fayetteville to Wilmington, when they come to Wrightsville Beach at the next Good Roads Convention in the summer of 1917. This honor, however, is not yet conceded to Wrightsville, for it is but fair to say that other places are now competing for this convention to be held at the State for this honor. But if early morning fishing, featured on Wrightsville's programme, is to be one of the chief attractions then I suggest you give it to Long Creek, but if it is a strawberry short cake, or huckleberry dumplings and other good things to eat, then we expect a unanimous vote for one of the flag stations in Sampson, undisturbed by other conventions of druggists and veterinarians, where, we trust, delegates will be fewer and beds more plentiful."

COMMITTEE IS GRATEFUL

Resolution of Thanks Adopted Thanking All Who Helped Make Road Convention a Success.

The splendid and effective co-operation of local organizations and Wilmington people generally in entertaining the largest and most successful meeting of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, was the occasion for a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Wilmington Highway Association at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday at noon, to express well merited appreciation and thanks to all who participated in the carrying out the plans for the successful meeting and entertainment of delegates.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, it is the sense of this committee that some appropriate recognition should be made of the services rendered by all those who have contributed in any way towards making the recent annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association a success, and

"Whereas, we desire to voice our appreciation of the splendid support and co-operation which has been extended on all sides, now

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the undersigned, members of the Executive Committee of the Wilmington Highway Association, extend our sincere thanks to Mr. H. B. Varner, president of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, to Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, secretary N. C. Good Roads Association, and his assistants; the Chamber of Commerce; the wholesale and retail merchants, city and county officials, Rotary Club, Wilmington Star, Evening Dispatch, Howard & Wells Amusement Co., North Carolina Moving Picture theatre, The Water Power Co., Carolina Metal Products Company, Young Men's Christian Association, Wilmington and Wrightsville hotels, Hanover Fishing Club, Wilmington Light Infantry, Segs Grotto (Mass.), the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co., the Seaboard Air Line Railway, the Southern Railway and connecting lines, the Brunswick Bridge & Ferry Co., Don Richardson's Orchestra, Cream Quintette, cutter Seminoles, members of the various committees of the Wilmington Highway Association, all the public spirited citizens and organizations who contributed to the success of the convention for the services rendered and deep appreciation for the interest manifested.

LILLINGTON TO SWANBORO

Capitalists From Chicago and New York Visit Mt. Olive.

(Mt. Olive Tribune 22.) Col. J. R. Baggett of Lillington; Mr. N. T. Patterson of Coats; Mr. J. C. Smith, of Chicago, Ill., and Mr. T. S. Baker, of New York, spent Monday night and Tuesday morning in Mount Olive. These gentlemen are interested in the construction of the Central Carolina Railroad from Lillington to Mount Olive and came here to look over the town and section, with which they were greatly impressed. They motored here from Lillington, and left Tuesday morning through the country for Swansboro.

Since the death several months ago of Mr. W. J. Edwards, the promoter of this road, Col. Baggett has been endeavoring to interest northern capitalists in the enterprise, and while here he stated that the outlook for the completion of the road now is more encouraging than at any time for the past year or more.

HASN'T SEEN HUSBAND SINCE MARRIAGE HOUR

FOR 40 LONG YEARS BEAUFORT GIRL HAS FAITHFULLY WAITED AND WATCHED FOR RETURN OF MAN SHE LOVES

(Special Star Correspondence.) New Bern, N. C., June 24.—One summer morning forty-nine years ago Geo. W. Caswell, a quartermaster on board of a government boat which was being used to patrol the coast and which had sailed into Beaufort harbor, disembarked from his ship and strolled about the streets of the town.

It so happened that a charming young woman, whose home was at Otway, N. C., was in Beaufort that day and the quartermaster and she met. This first meeting was followed by others and, to make the story short, they were finally married.

Less than an hour after the ceremony the groom was summoned to his ship and was forced to bid his bride a painful goodbye. Before leaving, he told her that his home was in New Jersey and that she should address all letters to him there.

From that day to this, Mrs. Caswell has not heard from her husband. A few days ago she wrote to Acting Governor Gaunt, of New Jersey, asking if he could give her any information in regard to her husband. However, the acting governor was unable to do this and has referred the matter to the War Department for investigation.

Mrs. Caswell, all through the years, has cherished an undying affection for her sailor-soldier lover and if he is living she is anxious to find him.

MILLER'S ANTISEPTIC OIL KNOWN AS

Snake Oil

Will Positively Relieve Pain in Three Minutes

Try it right now for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, sore, stiff and swollen joints, pains in the head, back and limbs, corns, bunions, etc. After one application pain disappears as if by magic.

A never failing remedy used internally and externally for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Sore Throat, Diphtheria and Tonsillitis.

This Oil is conceded to be the most penetrating remedy known. Its prompt and immediate effect in relieving pain is due to the fact that it penetrates to the affected parts at once. As an illustration, pour Ten Drops on the thickest piece of sole leather, and it will penetrate this substance through and through in three minutes.

Accept no substitute. This great oil is golden red color only. Every bottle guaranteed: 25c and 50c, a bottle, or money refunded. At leading druggists. HARDIN'S PHARMACY.

THE TRUCK MOVEMENT

Potatoes Will About Clean Up Last of Week—Cantaloupes First.

(Mt. Olive Tribune 22.)

This section is still shipping large quantities of Irish potatoes, the movement from Mount Olive and Calypso some days amounting to seventy-five carloads or more. The bulk of the crop has been marketed, however, and by the last of this week the crop will be pretty well cleaned up.

Prices the past few days have ranged around $3.00 per barrel, and there is little prospect of much of a drop below this figure.

The bean movement is over, the price having dropped too low to make it profitable to market more of them. Cucumbers are being shipped in large quantities and are bringing about 50 cents per basket. Huckleberries are still in good demand at $4.00 per crate. It is predicted that a few cantaloupes will be marketed here about the first of July.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 24.—What was said to be the largest crowd that ever attended a ball game in Brooklyn, saw the Superbas take a doubleheader from the New York Giants today 6 to 4 and 5 to 4. Anderson started the first game by striking out four of the first six batters, but was knocked out of the box in the fifth. The Superbas led all the way in the second game. Tressau was hit hard, especially by Wheat, who made a home run and two singles in four times up.

THOR OLSEN LOSES TO MAX SMITH IN NEW BERN MATCH

New Bern, N. C., June 24.—Thor Olsen, of Chicago, lost to Max Smith, of the terrible Swede, in a wrestling match at the hands of Max Smith, local wrestling champion, at Ghent Park casino last night in one of the fastest and most exciting matches ever seen here. Olsen secured the first fall in twenty-five minutes. The second fall was secured in thirty minutes and the last fall was also secured by the local man, this being secured in less than five minutes.

Smith used the famous toe hold on Olsen and the Swede just couldn't stand it. Several times he secured the same hold on Smith but the latter broke away from it. When the last fall was secured Olsen signalled that he had enough (and he probably did) almost as soon as Smith secured the hold.

Olsen is a pretty clever wrestler. His work all the way through was clean and scientific and was highly praised by the several hundred mat "fans" who saw the match.

—One Hitter in Each Team
Hits Over Fence.(Special Star Telegram.)
Rocky Mount, N. C., June 24.—Twice when the bases were full did some hefty winger clout the pellet out of the park and thus took a victory for his club in each instance. Each club claimed one of these hitters. In the early set to it was Eisel, of the Champs that turned the trick. In the second game, Burnett did likewise for the Powder Puffs and they took their first game of the four-day series.

Crabble was unusually effective in the second game and held the locals well in tow save in the opening. Brown and Jarman did the pitching for the Champs, the first named finger having been called to the dugout at the opening of the seventh inning of the first game and Jarman took over the pitching until the close.

DELGADO AND IMMANUEL TIE
Played Ten Innings at Sunset Park
With Score Standing Three to Three—W. L. I. Lost Game.

One of the best games of the season in the City Baseball League was staged yesterday afternoon at Sunset Park when the Delgado boys played the Immanuel team to ten innings with the score standing at 3 and 3 for each outfit and not a man being able to get across the pan for the winning run.

The Boys' Brigade ran away with the W. L. I. in the second game, winning by a score of 6 to 2.
In the first game the Immanuel led up to the sixth inning, having three runs to their credit, while their opponents had nothing. However, Delgado rallied, hitting Yates' balls freely, so that when the smoke of battle cleared away they had slipped three men across the plate, tying the score.

W. L. I. was out of the game on account of a hurt finger and this accounted to some extent for the slaughter of the Delgado boys. However, the Boys' Brigade was right on the job all the time and didn't fail to hit the ball at opportune times and gallantly supported their pitcher. The W. L. I. were accorded with three runs, six hits and one error, while the Boys' Brigade made six runs, four hits and one error. Jacobs and Bell were the batteries for the W. L. I. and Register and Griffith for the Boys' Brigade.

There was an attendance of 200 and the spectators enjoyed both the games, which were well played throughout.

WHITEVILLE LOSES BOTH ENDS
DOUBLEHEADER AT SHALLOTTE

Whiteville, N. C., June 24.—Whiteville lost both ends of a double-header at Shallotte today, the first without tallying and the second 4 to 3.

The first exhibition was a one-sided affair. Hickman not having been accorded proper support, Schulten relieved Hickman at the beginning of the third and pitched good ball.

The second game was one of the prettiest played by the locals this season. It was a pitchers' battle between Barefoot and St. George with the odds favoring the former, although his teammates did not rally in crucial stages.

First game:
Shallotte . . . 043 010—7 5 2
Whiteville . . . 000 000—0 5 5
Millican and Teel; Hickman, Schulten and Cashwell. Umpires, Parsley and Moore.

Second game:
Shallotte . . . 040 000—4 5 2
Whiteville . . . 000 000—3 7 2
St. George and Teel; Barefoot and Cashwell, Ward. Umpires Moore and Parsley.

Colored Brooklyn Team Wins.

The ball game at the colored league park yesterday afternoon between the Brooklyn Elms Stockings and the All Stars was won by the former by a score of 11 to 7. The game was featured by the pitching of Lucas for Brooklyn. There were 500 in attendance. There will be a game Monday between the Brooklyn team and the colored Y. M. C. A. on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Greenville, S. C., June 24.—The annual tournament of the Southern Lawn Tennis Association was brought to a close today with the championship match in men's singles. Edwin of Spartanburg, defeated Winston of North Carolina, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3. This was one of the best tennis matches ever played here.

Boston, June 24.—The Boston Americans took a double header from Philadelphia today 3 to 2 and 7 to 3. Hooper stole home in the first inning of the opener, his single being the only hit off Nabors up to the ninth, when singles by Hooper and Janvry, errors by Nabors and Murphy, a wild pitch and a fly to Schang let in the needed two runs.

Boston amassed four runs in the fourth inning of the second game on errors three singles, a base on balls and a wild pitch.

New York, June 24.—New York climbed into second place today by again defeating Washington twice, the scores being 2 to 1 and 4 to 3. It was the fourth double header won by the Yankees this season.

In the first game, Caldwell, who had been going poorly all season, showed a return of his former skill and held the Senators to four hits. Washington had a three run lead in the second inning, but home runs by Baker and Pipp, each with a runner on base, proved their undoing.

AUGUST BELMONT'S HORSE, PRIAR ROCK, WINS HANDICAP

New York, June 24.—By winning the Brooklyn handicap, a mile and a furlong in 1:50 today, August Belmont's Priar Rock, by Rock Hand-Fairy God, broke the Aqueduct race track record for the distance and proved himself to be the best 3-year-old colt of the year. Having won the old colt of the year, Priar Rock is the first horse of his age to have the credit of winning both of the big handicaps. When he won the Suburban four weeks ago the Belmont colt carried only 95 pounds, but today his immediate post-pounds more and his Jockey, Haynes, used excellent judgment in the handling of his mount from start to finish.

WRIGHT LOSES VIRGINIA TENNIS TITLE TO WHITNEY

Norfolk, Va., June 24.—Irving Wright, one of the most prominent figures in the American tennis world, lost the title to the tennis championship of Virginia here today, when he was defeated by Eli Whitney, of Boston, a former captain of the Harvard team and once holder of the Harvard collegiate championship of America, 6-3, 6-7-5, 6-1. Miss Molla Bjurstedt defeated Miss Elizabeth Bull, a local player and holder of the ladies championship of Virginia in two live sets.

PITCHER WEBSTER DEAD

Formerly With Wilmington in Old East Carolina Baseball League

Buffalo, N. Y., June 24.—Raymond A. Webster died recently at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Webster, 30 Glenwood avenue, after an illness of six months. Mr. Webster was 27 years old. In the spring of 1908 Webster went to the Wilmington, N. C. team in the Carolina League, as leading pitcher. He played with the Rock Island team in the I. L. I. League in 1909-1910, and in the latter part of the season of 1910 was drafted by the Chicago White Sox, subsequently being turned over for seasoning to the Rockford, Ill., team, where he was a leading pitcher for three years, 1911-1913. Webster played in 1914 with the Duquesne, Pa., team, returning to his home in Buffalo last summer. He was unmarried.

NEW OVERLAND MODEL IS HERE

Said to be Most Powerful Low-Priced
Car in World at No Advance in Price.

Like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky has come the announcement of a new model by the Willys-Overland Company, of Toledo, Ohio, which is destined, in the opinion of those who have already seen it, to cause a greater stir in automobile circles than any of the many sensational developments in motor car building which have occurred during recent years.

The most powerful low-priced car in the world is the description given of this new product of the great Toledo factory and it is to be known technically as the Willys-Overland Company's New Series Model 75 B. In spite of the nation-wide lamentations concerning the increasing cost of materials, labor and manufacturing equipment, this latest motor vehicle is to be sold at $635 for the touring car and $620 for the roadster of those which in an automobile are equally as sensational as the performance of the car itself.

The New Series Model 75 B Overland naturally bases its claims to being the most powerful low priced car in the world on its motor and on the exhaustive tests, which its builders insist have shown conclusively its superiority over anything of its kind ever manufactured heretofore. With a larger bore now 3 3/8 inches and a 5 inch stroke, it develops 31 1/2 horsepower at 1950 revolutions per minute. This performance, at this low speed, in the opinion of those who are familiar with building, promises the greatest possible power from the motor, with the smallest amount of wear on the motor itself.

Like a flash, this amazing motor will take the car 2 1/2 miles an hour to 53 miles an hour, on high, with all the ease of action so widely advertised in the big, powerful machines selling at five and six times its list price.

The low price of the new car naturally implies economy, but the Willys-Overland officials show that, unlike many other instances of low-priced cars, the economy does not end with the purchase price. And here again the efficiency of that wonder-motor, as the Overland officials refer to it, is demonstrated. Tests have repeatedly proven that this sensational car will accomplish 25 miles on one gallon of gasoline and 18 to 20 miles is a common performance in average all-around use.

The motor, however, is but one of the many features of this inexpensive car which are causing comment on every side. In riding comfort it is said no car anywhere near its price can compare with it. It is equipped with four shock absorbers, which practically unheard of up to now in cars of this type, no other make selling anywhere this price is equipped with four inch tires. Those who have ridden on four inch tires know well the advantages from the standpoint of riding comfort in a car of this size. The easy riding qualities of the car are further enhanced by cantilever rear springs, an attention paid to the adjustment of higher priced cars. They reduce to the minimum the jarring caused by driving over rough roads. This is due largely to the fact that the cantilever spring is attached to the axle of the car at the rear end of the spring, instead of in the middle. When the wheels strike a rough spot, the reaction is directed backward at a slight angle instead of straight up, as in the case of the springs as is the case with ordinary types of springs. The effect is the same as that of a glancing blow compared with a solid shock.

The New Series Model 75-B Overland is one of the extremely few light cars, perhaps the only one in its class, in which the maximum of speed can be utilized without rattling the car's frame, to pieces and without jarring the passengers out of their seats. In fact, the machine is simply a roomy, comfortable, solidly built car constructed on a light basis with such careful attention paid to distribution of weight and stamens of parts that it will hold the road, be it dry or slippery as it smoothly developing with sufficient speed to give a much heavier car with perfect ease. Light as it is, this new model is so built that it can make the best possible use of the most powerful motor.

Notwithstanding the low purchase price, both touring car and roadster are equipped completely with all of those accessories which prove great selling factors in the disposal of expensive makes of cars. Here are a few items in the equipment which are said to make it positively unique in the history of low priced cars:

A two unit, six-volt electric starting and lighting system, with head, tail and dash lamps and head light dimmers; ammeter to register the electric current; one-man mohair top and top boot; curtains fastened from the inside; built-in, rain-vision, ventilating type windshield; magnetic speedometer; revolving oil indicator; gasoline gauge; electric horn; combination tail light and license bracket; hinged robe rail; foot rest; the car's interior is a delectable room; full set of tools, tire repair kit, jack and pump.

In appearance, the body also ranks with the designs of most costly cars, practically the only difference being that it is smaller in size. Character and stability are noticeable in every detail. It has the latest streamline design, which has proved so attractive to the army of buyers during the last few months, and its long sweeping curves lead in an unbroken line from the radiator to the full curved back. A one-piece cowl and a sloping back increase its graceful appearance, while the crowned fenders of heavy sheet steel add another feature that is rare in inexpensive cars. Concealed door handles and hinges are also used in this model. There are large pockets, the inside of the doors, so necessary for carrying traveling incidentals, and the roomy seats have high, comfortable backs with seat cushions set on deep coiled springs. The machine is finished in solid black with nickel and polished aluminum trimmings.

The drive, of course, is left hand with a center console for footrest driving, the electric control buttons on the steering column enable the driver—man, woman or child—to control the horn, lights and ignition without stooping from the natural position at the wheel.

The motor is cooled by the most advanced thermo-siphon system, no pump being required. The radiator is of the latest Overland cellular type with vertical circulation and the whole shell is pressed from a single sheet of steel. A Tillotson carburetor is used and this makes of carburetor needs no introduction to anyone acquainted with the best in motor cars. One of its greatest points of desirability is its extremely simple adjustment. An improved ignition system also adds to the efficiency of the new model. It provides a sure, hot spark at even the lowest speeds.

A constant level splash system provides thorough lubrication under all manner of usage. The transmission is of the selective sliding gear type with three speeds forward and reverse. The gears themselves are nickel steel, double heat treated and of the stub-tooth type. The rear axle is of the floating type, with four bevel differential gears. The front axle is an I-beam section, drop forged in one heat without welding. Steering knuckles are designed to give an unusually short turning radius and the brakes are large and powerful, which goes to make it one of the easiest cars in the world to operate in crowded traffic.

The clutch brake pedals can be adjusted to the reach most convenient for the driver, and their large and roughened surfaces insure a firm foothold at all times. The clutch is of the well known Overland aluminum cone type, leather faced.

The foregoing are some of the features which go to make this new arrival in the automobile world a most desirable light weight car as well as the most powerful low priced car in the world.

CUBS WIN ANOTHER ONE

Made Big Sport in Ninth Inning in Game With Winter Park—East
Wilmington Wins.

The winners in yesterday's contests of the Interurban League were the Cubs, who played Winter Park on the latter's diamond, winning by the close score of 7 to 6, and East Wilmington, who played Red Sox on the former's diamond, winning easily by the score of 9 to 2. This ties the Cubs and East Wilmington for the first place, each team having a rating of 1,000 while the Red Sox and Winter Park are tied for the cellar position, each team having lost both games in the second series.

The big feature of the game at Winter Park was the rally in the ninth inning by the Cubs, who put over four runs in the last round and won over their rivals with a score of 7 to 6. The pitching of Casten, who relieved Page in the seventh inning, for the Cubs was splendid work, the last six men facing him in the eighth and ninth innings having been struck out.

Petner and McIntire were the batteries for Winter Park and Page, Casten and Todd were the batteries for the Cubs. Two base hits were made by Childs, Bergan, Casten and Monroe. Page struck out eight, Casten six and Petner eight. Bases on balls: Off Petner 6, off Page 1. Double play made by M. Grant to Hart. The umpire was Hedrick. Score by innings:
Winter Park . . . 010 000 500—6 7 2
Cubs . . . 020 001 004—7 5 4

The features of the game at East Wilmington was the heavy hitting of the home team, especially by "Mack" Wilson, who made a triple, a double and a single out of five trips to the plate. The pitching of Horne was also a feature. The batteries for the Red Sox were Pick and Chew for East Wilmington. Horne and Wilson. Three bases hits were made by Barlow, Wilson and Jones, two base hits by Horne, Wilson and Pick. Stolen bases made by V. Fearsall, Barlow, O. Fearsall, Fowler and Haskett. Bases on balls: Off Horne 4, Strunk out by Horne 13, by Pick 8. Hit by pitched ball, Cashwell. Double play by S. Jones to P. Jones and Wilson. The umpire Houston. Score by innings:
Red Sox . . . 000 030 000—3 3 4
East Wilmington 102 002 13—9 12 7

CAROLINA BOY MAKING GOOD
Falcon Ball Player Who May Prove
Sensation in the Major League.

The Philadelphia "Leager" has photo, and the following about another young North Carolina who is making good in the big league. Mack Thomas, who believes he has picked up a sensational twirler in Marshall Williams, the University of North Carolina pitcher. Williams worked out at Shibe Park three days last season and made a wonderful impression on Mack, Thomas, and the veteran members of the team. In a recent interview, Mack stated that he had one pitcher coming that would surely make good. Williams is the youngster. He has been working out at Shibe Park for a week, and Ira Thomas is coming home to prepare the youngster for early debut. He is 21 years old, stands 5 feet and weighs 175 pounds. This photo was taken at Shibe Park this morning.

Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, of Faison, N. C., and his future career will be watched with interest by the friends of his parents and his many friends over the State, says the Duplin Record of Warsaw.

"CHRY-BABY" ANDERSON
Former Star Pitcher in East Carolina
League, Making Good With Giants.

Speaking of "Doc" Anderson, old Eastern Carolina player, A. & M. coach and the pride of Iredell, the New York Mail comments as follows:
"Fred Anderson, the Giants' star pitcher, is one hurler who may be truthfully said to be pitching for his health. By that it is not meant to convey the impression that Fred works without remuneration from the Giants. Far from it. The story is as follows:
"Some years ago Anderson was pitching for the Red Sox. He was studying dentistry as well. Finally he decided to give up baseball and take up his other profession.
"He bought out the practice of an old dentist down in his home town in North Carolina. He did very well, too, and with no thought of ever returning to the diamond.
"The fact of the matter was, Anderson was doing so well. He had so much business that his health began to break down under the strain. His physician advised him to take a long rest and be out in the open as much as possible.
"The Federal League was just starting up. So Fred decided to try his hand at pitching again. He signed with Buffalo.
"He soon regained his strength, and did so well in the outlay league that he decided to remain in the game indefinitely. Last year he was regarded by many as the best pitcher in the Fed.
"McGraw heard of his prowess, and when the outlay smash came purchased him at once. He has proved a good buy, for he is today ranked as the best hurler on McGraw's staff."
"Anderson's health is fully restored now. Yet in a sense he is still pitching for it. He is pitching now to retain it, not to get it back."

"At the ball game"

It's the "lucky seventh"—your home team is rallying—Gee, but you're hoarse and hot from shouting. Bang! Some wallop—that ties the score.
"Hey! boy! boy!" the man behind you calls, "Quick! hand up two bottles of that Pinap'a Juice to take the feathers out of my mouth."
You and your neighbors each take a bottle of Pinap'a to cool your parched throats. Never miss it. A bottle of Pinap'a is half the game.

ZEBULON BAIRD VANCE

Address of Senator Lee S. Overman on Occasion of Unveiling in Statuary
Hall, Washington, June 22, of Bronze Statue of North Carolina's Greatest Son, as Her Gift to the Nation.

Mr. President, with the completion of two wings added to the old Capitol, one now occupied by the House of Representatives and the other by the Senate, the old House of Representatives was left deserted and silent. The scenes enacted there in that old chamber for 50 years were only a precious memory and the echoes made by the noise of footsteps only recalled the eloquent voices which had once so stirred the members who sat there to make laws for their country.

For the utilization of this deserted chamber many plans were submitted. The late Senator Morrill, then a member of the House, finally submitted the following plan, which was approved and became a law on the 2nd day of July, 1863:

"The President is authorized to invite all the States to provide and furnish statues, in marble or bronze, not exceeding two in number for each state, of deceased persons who have been citizens thereof and illustrious for their historic renown or for distinguished civic or military services, such as each state may deem worthy of this national commemoration; and when so furnished the same shall be placed in the old Hall of the House of Representatives, in the Capitol of the United States, which is set apart, or so much thereof as may be necessary, as a national Statuary Hall for the purpose herein indicated."

His remarks in speaking to the passage of this bill are worthy to be quoted here, and were as follows: "Congress is the guardian of this fine old hall, surpassing in beauty all the rooms of this vast pile, and should protect it from desecration. Its noble columns from a quarry exhausted and incapable of reproduction—

Nature formed but one, and broke the die in molding. "Its democratic simplicity and grandeur of style and its wealth of association, with many earnest and eloquent chapters in the history of our country, deserve perpetuity at the hands of an American Congress. It was here that many of our most distinguished men, whose fame 'the world will not willing let die,' began or ended their career.

"It appears to me eminently proper, therefore, that this House should take the initiative in setting apart, with reverent affection the hall, so charged with precious memories, to some purpose of usefulness and dignity. To what end more useful or grand, and at the same time simple and inexpensive, can we devote it than to ordain that it shall be set apart for the reception of such statuary as each state shall elect to be deserving of this lasting commemoration? Will not all the states with generous emulation proudly respond, and thus furnish a new evidence that the Union will clasp and hold forever all its jewels—the glories of the past, civil, military, and judicial—in one hallowed spot where those who will be here to aid in carrying on the government may daily receive fresh inspiration and new incentives.

"To scorn delights and live laborious days? and where the pilgrims from all parts of the Union, as well as from foreign lands, may come and behold a gallery filled with such American manhood as succeeding generations will delight to honor, and see also the actual form and mold of those who have inseparably fixed their names on the pages of history."

North Carolina, one of the old original thirteen States, now claims her right and the happy privilege to place on that gallery of renowned statesmen, heroes, soldiers, and patriots one of her foremost citizens, illustrious and distinguished for his services to his State and his country, both in peace and in war—a patriot and a leader among men, idolized by all his people.

For 50 years the State of North Carolina failed to avail herself of this generous offer of Congress. But when the time came to make selection of him to be so greatly honored and revered, among all the great and noble men of the State from its early history, distinguished Americans, patriots, statesmen, lawyers, judges, builders of the State and country, great senators and governors, as they all passed in review the eyes of the people instinctively turned upon one man, and with one accord, without a dissenting voice, selected the great commoner, Zebulon Baird Vance.

As the beautiful mountains in which he first saw the light towers over the lovely valleys lying below, as Mount Mitchell, the highest peak east of the Rocky Mountains, towers over the other peaks of the Appalachian Range, out of which it lifts its lofty head at the foot of which Senator Vance built his beautiful home, so in the hearts of his countrymen he towers over all the great array of men who had become distinguished in the State and our country's history. He had loved them, led them, and suffered with them in the dark days, in the days of distress and gloom, amid the storms, their distress, and defeat; and then after the storm was over, after the disaster, the suffering, the distress, and defeat, he led them in sunshine and to triumphant victory.

He had faithfully represented them in the House of Representatives. He had led them and fought with them upon the bloody field of battle. He had served them in the executive chair so ably and conspicuously that he became far and wide renowned as the greatest of the war governors; and when the clouds had passed away and the evil days had gone, again as their governor upon his ruins had helped to rebuild the old State, and with great ability and eminent statesmanship for more than 12 years had served them in the Senate, and finally had died at his post of duty. He loved the people and the people loved him as few public men had ever been loved.

His heroic statue now stands in Statuary Hall with Washington, Lincoln, Grant and Lee, Webster, Clay, Calhoun, and with other renowned statesmen and patriots whose states have placed them here for our countrymen to admire and revere, and that they may derive 'fresh inspiration and new incentives' to their country's honor and glory.

In this age of commercialism we are inclined to forget the men whose high ideals and devotion to duty have aided in the upbuilding of this great government and the preservation of the immortal principles upon which it was founded. In the mad rush for place and position it is well to have just such object lessons as are found in that gallery of statesmen to remind us that our happiness and the blessings of liberty we enjoy are interwoven with the efforts, hardships, and the accomplishments of those who have lived before us. The history of those lives is the history of our country.

Senator Vance's ancestors were of Scotch-Irish descent. They settled in North Carolina before the Revolution, and both his paternal and maternal ancestors fought in that great struggle for independence—one at Valley Forge with Washington and the other at Ramseurs Mill and Kings Mountain. Both aided in the erection of this wonderful superstructure which guarantees political liberty and individual freedom. From them he inherited his great courage, his patriotism, and his rugged honesty. Senator Vance had combined in him the humor and known wit of the Irish, and the logic, the perseverance, the insight, and love of liberty of the Scotch. Upon the hustings, in the office, the social circle, in every company and on every occasion he enlightened it with his wit, brightened it with his humor, and charmed it with his jovial good nature. He inherited the great will power that caused him rarely to unbend and never to break.

He was born in the county of Buncombe, on the 13th day of May, 1830, in the Blue Ridge Mountains, near the French Broad River, whose waters and the wind roar over the heaped rocks on through the great forests between the great mountains on to the sea.

He spent his early life upon the farm. He acquired a good education in the village school, and when prepared he attended Washington College, Tennessee, and then one year at the University of the State; read law and received his license to practice and soon thereafter was elected county attorney.

At the age of 21 he was elected county attorney, at the age of 24 he was elected to the house of commons, at the age of 28 he was elected to Congress, and at the age of 30 was re-elected to Congress for a second term. At the age of 31, in 1861, he volunteered for the war and was elected captain and then colonel of the famous fighting Twenty-sixth Regiment North Carolina State troops in the Confederate Army. At the age of 32 he was elected governor of the State of North Carolina, and at the age of 34 he was re-elected governor for a second term. At the age of 40 he was elected United States Senator, but was denied admission upon the grounds that his political disabilities had not been removed. At the age of 45 he was again elected governor of his State. At the age of 49 he was again elected United States Senator and took his seat, and every six years thereafter was re-elected to the Senate until his death in this city at the age of 64 years, having been elected four times to this great body. Thus step by step, from his early manhood, higher and higher his people heaped promotions and honors upon him and elevated him to positions of confidence and trust, in all of which positions he achieved distinction. He never betrayed his people. He served them in all these positions with fidelity and great ability and never a breath of scandal or criticism of his integrity and honesty was ever made against him by either friend or foe.

While at the front fighting with his regiment to one of his constituents who was urging him to give his consent for the people of his district to elect him to the Confederate Congress, he replied as follows:

"You remember well he position I occupied upon the great question which so lately divided the people of the South. Ardently devoted to the old Union and the forms which the Federal fathers established, I clung to it so long as I thought there was a shadow of hope of preserving, purifying, or reconstructing it. And you will also remember that in the last official communication I had the honor to make to my constituents as their representative, I pledged myself in case all our efforts for peace and justice at the hands of the North should fail, that their cause was mine, their destiny was my destiny, and that all I had and was should be spent in their service. Those hopes did fail, as you know, signally and miserably fail; civil war was thrust upon the country and the strong arm of northern despotism was stretched out to crush and subdue the Southern people. I immediately volunteered for their defense, in obedience not only to this promise, but also, as I trust, to patriotic instincts; and I should hold this promise but poorly fulfilled should I now, after having acquired sufficient knowledge of military affairs to begin to be useful to my country, escape its obligations by seeking or even accepting a civil appointment."

He had been elected to Congress in 1854 as a States Rights American. At home and in Congress he was an outspoken Union man. He loved the flag his fathers had fought to establish, but he also believed, as he had been taught, that his first duty was to his State. When his State, which had voted in April, 1861, to stay in the Union, finally had to take her choice whether to fight with and for her neighbors or against them, on the 20th of May, a month following, unhesitatingly seceded from the Union, he, as was his duty to do, went with his people and at once volunteered to fight in their defense, and he went into war with his whole heart and soul. He was making a speech at Asheville, in his district, for the preservation of the Union when Mr. Lincoln's proclamation arrived and was handed him. His hand came down and his voice raised for volunteers for the war.

Sometime after this the people of the State began to hold meetings and in the press began to call upon him to consent to allow them to run him for governor. Time and again he was importuned to do so, and then from the battle front he wrote to a friend as follows:

"Believing that the only hope of the South depended upon the prosecution of the war at all hazards and to the utmost extremity so long as the foot of an invader pressed Southern soil, I took the field at an early day, with the determination to remain there until our independence was achieved. My convictions in this regard remain unchanged. In accordance herewith I have steadily and sincerely declined all promotion save that which placed me at the head of the gallant men whom I now command. A true man should, however, be willing to serve wherever the public voice may assign him. If, therefore, my fellow citizens believe that I could serve the great cause better as governor than I am now doing, and should see proper to confer this great responsibility upon me, without solicitation on my part, I should not feel at liberty to decline it, however conscious of my own unworthiness.

"In thus frankly avowing my willingness to labor in any position which may be thought best for the public good, I do not wish to be considered guilty of the affection of indifference to the great honor which my fellow citizens thus propose to bestow upon me. On the contrary, I should consider it the crowning glory of my life to be placed in a position where I could most advance the interests and honor of North Carolina, and, if necessary, lead her gallant sons against her foes. But I shall be content with the people's will. Let them speak."

He was elected governor in 1862 and was re-elected in 1864, and during this most stormy, trying, and saddest period of the State's history he served with the highest executive ability and exhibited a degree of wisdom, far-seeing sagacity, and ability for organization rarely ever seen in any man. He equipped and sent to the Confederate Army more troops than any other Southern State. Her soldiers were better clad and her people had more comfort at home.

All the ports of the South had been blockaded and soon after his inauguration he conceived the idea of "running the blockade," and organized a fleet of blockade runners from Wilmington, N. C., to European and South American ports, by means of which he was enabled to export cotton and receive in exchange shoes, cloth, cotton cords, and other necessities of life for the soldiers and people at home, which he successfully carried on during nearly the entire war. In every county he organized relief societies to save the poor from starvation, and did everything possible that could be done to care for the women and children while his soldiers were away fighting in defense of the State. He upheld the rights of the courts and the individuals, and refused to suspend or allow to be suspended the great writ of habeas corpus.

At the close of the war he was arrested and confined in the old Capitol prison, but when the records were shown of his kind treatment of the 10,000 starving Union soldiers confined at Salisbury, in his State, his appeal to his own people to share their scanty subsistence with them, and his appeal to the authorities of the North for an exchange of prisoners, he was granted an early discharge. He returned home, sad at heart, to share with his people their poverty and defeat. He began the practice of the law for a livelihood, but his people called upon him again to serve them and lead them.

In the great campaign of 1876, when the people of the State determined to rid themselves from carpetbag misrule and the rottenness and corruption that then obtained in high places, from the insult and oppression of the misguided negro—their former slaves—from the chaotic conditions that then prevailed in the State, they again called Governor Vance to be their Moses to lead them out of the wilderness of their troubles and humiliation; and the Democratic party, with which he had allied himself, selected him as their standard bearer and nominated him for governor. The Republicans had nominated one of the ablest debaters in the State, and then in joint canvass they began one of the ablest, bitterest, and most exciting campaigns ever known or ever will be known again in that State.

Mr. President, although quite a young man, I was with him occasionally in that campaign and with others followed him to his different appointments in the State. I saw the great multitude of men, women, and children who flocked to see him and hear him. I saw the great cavalcades that came cheering to welcome him and escort him on the highways to his appointments. Many of them would follow him about from appointment to appointment and never tire of hearing him. I have seen that great form rise to speak and then the wild cheering. I have heard him address the multitude, at times moving them to uncontrollable laughter at his sallies of wit and humor; have heard those delightful anecdotes with which he clinched some of his strongest points, heard his unanswerable logic, his forceful invective, ridicule, and sarcasm. BLADENBORO IS BUSY
Improvements Being Made and Road Being Constructed.—(Special Star Correspondence.)

Bladenboro, N. C., June 24.—The village of Bladenboro is now a busy place. Work on the cotton mill addition, the oil mill and the good road is progressing satisfactorily. Mr. William Lamont, of Raeford, has the contract to build 24 miles of road and has about the same number of negroes on the job, and some good road is being built. As soon as the county officers sell Bladenboro's $20,000 of school house bonds work will commence on the school building.

Mr. E. C. Bridger, Jr., the clever cashier of the Bank of Bladenboro, has moved into his handsome new bungalow on Main street.

The recent rains have the farmers very busy. General Green has to be met.

As the second primary draws near things are warming up. Both Godwin and Brown are scheduled to speak here this evening, the former at 8 o'clock and the latter at 8 o'clock. Bladenboro is one of the strongest Republican townships in the county and also strong for Godwin. Nearly all the Republicans would vote for Godwin if they could. Although this is one of the strongest Godwin precincts, Brown will get a nice vote here.

FOURTH TO BE GREAT DAY AT CHAPEL HILL

Spectacular and Instructive Exercises for Celebration.

Only Seven of the 100 Counties in the State Not Represented in the University Summer School.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Chapel Hill, N. C., June 24.—The Fourth of July celebration in Chapel Hill this year is not only going to be a safe and sane one, but it will be a spectacular and instructive one as well. This much can be easily ascertained from plans divulged today by Prof. A. Vermont, superintendent of the Smithfield public schools, who has the pageant and celebration in charge.

Professor Vermont produced an attractive play of his own composition—Esther Wake—here two years ago, which won warm applause. Last year Prof. A. D. Patterson was in charge of the pageant, and scenes representative of events in North Carolina colonial history were reproduced. This latter plan will be followed somewhat by Mr. Vermont this year.

The patriotic exercises will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. The different delegations will then form a procession that will parade through the town and campus. Finally they will gather around the flagpole near the college well, where the National hymns will be sung and a flag raised with appropriate ceremony. The customary reading of the Declaration of Independence will then take place, after which the Fourth of July oration will be delivered by some speaker of note.

A game of baseball will be played at 3 in the afternoon between members of the University Summer School and the University Law School. Following this, at 5, there will be held a North Carolina pageant on the central campus. The scenes which will be chosen for representation illustrate the home and public life of our ancestors in the period of discovery and settlement—Colonial days.

Statistics of registration have just been compiled, showing from what counties in North Carolina and from what other states the students of the summer school came. It is truly a State summer school, for only seven counties in the State are unrepresented. The registration so far shows 28 students from outside North Carolina. Of these, 13 come from Virginia, four from South Carolina; three from Tennessee; two from Oklahoma, and one each from Florida, New Jersey, New York and Wisconsin. Japan and Cuba are also represented. Orange leads the counties with 47 students enrolled. Wake comes next with 39, and Robeson third with 35 students.

The total enrollment to date, exclusive of the law school, is 923, of which number about 260 are working towards college degrees. This summer school has broken all previous records for students doing graduate work, over 60 now being thus enrolled.

WONDERFUL CONVENTION
Strong Programme Planned for All-South Christian Endeavor Convention. Atlanta, Ga., June 24.—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, of Washington, D. C., and Dr. Francis E. Clark, of Boston, are the two leading speakers who are to address the All-South Christian Endeavor Convention in Atlanta, Ga., July 13-16. Homer Cadwell, Billy Sunday's singer, will lead the music at this great convention.

Some of the greatest denominational leaders in America will be present to take part in the program. Among them are: Rev. Egbert W. Smith, D. D., Nashville, executive secretary of Foreign Missions for the Southern Presbyterian church, and 16 leading Southern Presbyterian pastors. Rev. William Ralph Hall, of Philadelphia, secretary of Young People's Work for the U. S. A. Presbyterian church, Frank Lowe, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., national field secretary Christian Endeavor for the Disciples of Christ. The leading Christian Endeavor workers of America will be present. Besides Dr. Clark there will be Daniel A. Pollock, of Boston, President of the Association of the United Society of C. E. Karl Lehmann, of Birmingham, Ala., Southern states secretary of C. E.; E. P. Gates, of Chicago, field secretary of the U. S. C. E.; and Edgar F. Garwood, field secretary of the Brooklyn, N. Y., C. E. Union; Charles F. Evans, of Lexington, Ky., field secretary of the All-South C. E. Extension committee.

2,000 delegates are expected at this first All-South C. E. convention in Atlanta, July 13-16. It will be the greatest religious meeting for Young People ever held in the South.

RARE BEEF CURE POPULAR
New Being Used in Every State Where Malaria Exists.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
New Bern, N. C., June 24.—Not only is the rare beef cure for malarial fever, which was discovered by Dr. E. C. Armstrong, one of New Bern's well known osteopaths, proving popular in New Bern and North Carolina but it is being used now in every State where malaria is prevalent and Dr. Armstrong is receiving reports from South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama and other states, telling of some wonderful cures which have been effected through this method.

Dr. Armstrong, who has been experimenting with this rare beef cure, which consists of eating a half pound or more of rare beef three times a week, has never had a failure. Some months ago, as if we may have to try the remedy, gave it out to the world to use and since that time he has been receiving reports of the results which have been accomplished. A few weeks ago Dr. Armstrong went to Georgia and told the Georgia Osteopathic Association of this discovery and he has recently been asked to make an address on the subject before the osteopaths of Kansas.

EVENTS OF A WEEK IN AND ABOUT LUMBERTON

Work is Being Done for Messrs.
Brown and Godwin in Robeson.

Lumber River Has a Freshet—Veterans
Would Like to Go to Mexico.
Archdeacon Nee to Teach Class Today.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Lumberton, N. C., June 24.—Next Saturday, July 1st, will be apt to settle the question as to who the people want to draw the salary from the Sixth Congressional district for the next two years. There is no doubt about it, work is being done, and it is not all for one man. According to their campaign expense accounts filed with the clerk of the House by law, Mr. Little spent $3,450.80 in the other primary, while Mr. Godwin dropped $1,800.32.

Walton Bethune, Mr. Godwin's manager here, said they were not spending a dollar, said he was opposed to that kind of business. The Robesonian says that Mr. Little gave his Robeson manager a thousand. This is shown by his report to Washington. The Star man asked the Little manager what he did with that money and he said "just paid a few past-due notes." Two or three barrels will have to be opened next week. Some correspondent writing The Star from Dunn a few days ago, signing "G. K. G." gave out the information that Mr. Godwin carried Robeson in the first primary. "Go away from home to get the news," he did get more votes than either of the other candidates here, but he did not get a majority. Watch next Saturday.

For some time there has been a disposition on the part of some of the bottom mill employees to want to follow a secret solicitor to other mills. A few who are not satisfied anywhere have gone. First of the week a man who has a large family, went on an investigation tour and on his return told your correspondent that all who had jobs at the mills here would do well to hold them, as this was the best place he had seen, and the management here could not be excelled by any in another town he had been to.

That section of Lumberton lying west of Lumber river should be a clean section if an overflow from the river counts for anything. For several days past the water has been running over the woods, and McAllister's fine fish pond presents the appearance of a mill race as the waters rush through it. Perhaps a good many fish may stop in the pond on account of deep water, and it is more probable that some will be objectionable characters.

Thursday evening the writer spent an hour most pleasantly with a stranger who was making his first trip through the South. He declared that, of its size, Lumberton was the nicest town he had ever visited. He told the truth—Lumberton is one of the best to be found anywhere, and only wait until that hotel is completed. And the place is going on—its coming. The order has also been placed for the furniture.

Messrs. A. S. Wishart and A. R. Small, veterans of the War Between the States, are both anxious to go into Mexico—they don't want to stop at the border. While these old boys are anxious to see all powder again, the younger men do not seem inclined to want to go where it is said they never shovel snow. Lumber Bridge has been asking for ten recruits from Lumberton, but it seems that all who cared to mingle with the Mexicans had already joined the regular army. Archdeacon T. P. Nee, of Wilmington, will conduct the teachers' training class of the Episcopal Sunday school at Trinity church next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

Joint Debate Affords Amusement.
It is reported here this morning that a great political meeting was held in Howellsville township last night, and people are heard complaining of sore sides as the result of too much laughing. Mayor White, a sports booster, met Mr. Stephen McIntyre, a Brown booster, in joint debate. Those heard discussing the matter say it was "a time." One man said it made no difference to him who was elected, but one thing was sure, the crowd last night was composed of Brown people.

Many people in Lumberton will sincerely regret the decision of Mr. A. J. Holmes, manager of the Holmes Lumber Company, to return to his old home at Dunn, which he will do early in July. Since Mr. Holmes began business here he has made friends of all with whom he has become acquainted. He is regarded as one of the very best young men in every way who has ever spent any time in Lumberton. The business will be continued as at present with Mr. J. B. Strickland, of Dunn, as manager.

Machinery for Power Plant.
A shipment of machinery for the town power plant was received a few days ago. One piece alone weighs 25 tons, and is being moved up town by the roller route and fairly good time is being made.

Few people have any desire to rest in a cemetery, but one of the most inviting places in this vicinity at present is the old cemetery near the union station. It has been nicely cleaned off, which makes it a most beautiful place.

Praise for Wilmington.
A good many people from this section have visited Wilmington and the beaches during the week, and judging from the talk the trip was unusually pleasant. Some of the visitors are leud in their praises of the Wilmington people. Some of them do not seem able to find words to express their appreciation of the many courtesies shown them by the people of the city by the sea. The writer knows from personal experience that Wilmington is one of the best cities to visit and is treated nice.

Messrs. J. S. McNeill, A. T. McLean and J. P. Townsend went on a fishing trip to Lake Waccamaw this week and report great sport. Of course, the weather was too warm and the distance too great to attempt to bring the fish home.

The Seaboard, finding itself short of suitable equipment, has given notice that the special train which was to have been operated between Hamlet and Wilmington on Sundays, beginning July 2nd, will not run. That does not affect the present rates, however.

Meets Horrible Death.
Mr. Leonard Stone, aged 65, met a horrible death at a saw mill at Barnesville this week. The governor belt on the engine broke causing the engine to run wild, the large driving wheel flung to pieces, one piece of which hit Mr. Stone, who was 30 or 35 feet away, on the head, crushing his skull in a horrible manner. He lived for several hours but never regained consciousness. The engine was badly wrecked. Choice peaches were sold to housekeepers this morning at 25 cents per peck. Peaches seem to be plentiful. A few home-grown apples are also coming in. The Star man went into a store yesterday where he saw in the same counter apples grown last year along with those grown this year.

Mr. David Fuller at Home.
Mr. David Fuller, who has been a student of Harvard University since last year, arrived at home this week. Mr. Fuller obtained license for the practice of law in this State before entering Harvard. He has not definitely decided yet, but his many friends hope he will remain at home. Mr. Fuller is one of a large number that Lumberton is justly proud of.

casual, and his flow of eloquence, and together, like a mighty torrent, would carry the crowd with him and would so warm their hearts that with mighty cheers—
They threw their hats
As they could hang them on the horns of the moon.
Shouting their exultation.

"They heard him with rapture and exultant joy." I have seen that magnificent presence of his rise when the masses would sit at the great excitement, like the waves of the sea in a great storm wrought up to wild fury, when it seemed they were almost ready to mob his opponent, lift his arm and wave his hand for order, and in a moment they were as quiet as the grave and were listening in respectful silence to the great speech of his opponent.

With his election came peace, race antagonism was in a measure allayed, and the old Commonwealth started on its onward march upward to happiness and peace. Always his proper control of his audience. It was one triumph march from the mountains to the sea. He was elected. Nothing could stop the great victory which came to him.

He began at once to plan for the settlement of the great debt that was burdening the people, to provide for the education of the white people and the black alike, to provide for the care of the insane, the deaf, dumb, and blind, and of orphans, to provide for the restoration of the people who had been driven from their homes, and to provide for the great Commonwealth came into their own again.

He honored me with a position, with his confidence and his friendship. I was closely related to him, and knew him in the executive office and in the home circle. I loved him for his uniform kindness. I admired him for his genius, his great courage and patriotism, and I have the fondest memory of his love and tender devotion to his wife and children. I enjoyed his brilliant conversation and his rich, rare, and kind of anecdotes, his humor, and jovial disposition. While his soul was full of wit and humor, he was serious and often engaged in the deepest thought, and found time to write his celebrated lecture upon the "Scattered Nation."

Perhaps the only thing for which he was seriously criticized while governor was his too free use of the pardoning power. He has been the little blind girl pleading for the pardon of her aged father, the wife pleading for her husband, and the mother for her boy being hanged to the gallows. His heart could not resist their appeals. Tenderness, sympathy, and mercy were part of his nature. He would often yield when he knew that his action was taken in the face of the opinion of the people.

Free from egotism, he was one of the most approachable of men, and the executive chamber was always open to all comers without regard to their standing in life. His majestic form, his resonant voice, his long flowing locks, the merry twinkle of the eye, and his simple manners, his open-heartedness, impressed everyone who came in his presence. They felt that they stood in the presence of a great man, but were unafraid and at once felt at home.

His people would not permit him to remain long in the executive chair, and two years after he had been inaugurated governor he was elected to the Senate and was sworn in as a member of this body on the 4th day of March, 1874. At once he took high rank in this body and was recognized as one of its greatest debaters. He was on some of the most important committees, but his greatest work was upon the Finance committee. Perhaps his greatest speech here was upon the tariff question. He carefully attended to the wants of his constituents, was very industrious, and contributed by his wise financial measures to many important public measures.

His great reputation had preceded him here, and he suffered not by his close associations with his colleagues, in his service here, or by his activities in the Nation's councils.

Imbued with the doctrine of State rights, loving the South, her people and her traditions with fervor and devotion, he viewed with distrust and suspicion every measure which seemed to him to point to a centralization of power in the Federal government.

Imbued with the spirit of chivalry, with high ideals of honor and a lover of the truth, he was ever on the side of right and justice, and the cause of the people found in him a bold and steadfast champion.

Among his colleagues in the Senate there were great men of great minds and great ability; statesmen of long and large experience, but with them he suffered not by comparison.

He was a great reader of the Bible and had an abiding faith in the truth of the Christian religion and the immortality of the soul. Not in years but worn in cares, duties, honors, and responsibilities of a long life of arduous service to his people and his country, he passed into eternity, his great soul passed into eternity, and the people of his State without regard to party, race, sex, or creed bowed their heads in sorrow. Women wept and strong men shed tears as they walked along the streets.

Three times governor of a great State; twice elected to the House of Representatives; four times elected to the United States Senate. Can there be found in the annals of our history such a record?

To perpetuate his memory his native county has erected a great monument to him in the city of Asheville, his people, a bronze statue of him in the capitol grounds, and his State now has placed in the abiding place of the Nation's immortals, in bronze, his chiseled form and features in memory of the deeds of the past and to be an inspiration to those who come after us to kindle the fires of patriotism and stir the hearts of the youth of the land to greater and nobler endeavor for the glory and honor of our great country.

Like a granite pillar chiseled from his own native quarries, his life rises above us, lofty and massive, and yet graceful. It rises above the clouds of troubles and hardships he endured, and stands in the light of heaven, a monument of a glory that is past and a guide to that which is to be.

The potentates on whom men gaze,
When once their rule has reached its goal,
Die into darkness with their days,
But monuments of the great and soul,
With light unflinching and unspent,
Illumine fame's firmament.

THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Employee Gives His Version of Controversy with Railroads.
(Locomotive Engineers' Journal).
Danville, Ill., May 3, 1916.

Editor Journal: Now that the question of the eight-hour day is pending between the employees and the railroads, it seems that the thought of the country are printing articles relative to it, and I must say that in a good many instances they are very unfair to the railroad men.

Railroad employees were never the cause of any burden placed on the poor stockholders or the public. A railroad man is human and earns his money just like anyone who works for a living rather than for his health. The employees are not looking for something for nothing; what they want is eight hours' work, eight hours' sleep, and eight hours for recreation so that they can enjoy home life and be real human. We ask the same conditions the government gives its employees. We are required to pass rigid examinations and one has to be almost perfect to get in the service. Railroad men make 40 cents an hour, with the added risk and responsibility of handling human lives and property.

At present it is eight hours' sleep or less at home; 10 to 16 hours on railroad, then eight or ten hours at the other end of the road; all this, and Sundays thrown in for good measure, so where do the wife and children come in?

The financial condition of the railroads in the past was not due to overpayment of wages, but to improper management and juggling of the money and other things.
I cannot see how the public in general can be against us when we are not asking for more than our portion of the public now enjoy—Uncle Sam's employees, for instance, and most of the trades; the merchants should not kick for we pay them their prices—per cent profit. Do railroad men make 40 per cent profit on their labor? I should say not. Of course we are asking for time and one-half in excess of eight hours; do you know why? Because that time is to go to our families. All men were worked the same number of hours and days we work, all kinds of amusement places would have to quit business, and this world would be a kind of grinding mill with money kings turning the cranks. If you want to get the most out of a man for one day, you should work him 24 hours, but if you want to get the most out of him for a lifetime, you should reduce the hours of labor to eight a day, and most railroad men give their lifetime to the railroads.

Now, in conclusion, let me say, stand shoulder to shoulder with your Grand Chief, and let the railroad officials know that there are others on this earth who want a little sunshine as well as they who are in the shade of the roads.
Fraternally yours,
C. PATTERSON, Div. 100.

ALLEN NOT STUDYING ABOUT RUNNING AGAINST SIMMONS
Later Urges Him for Supreme Court for Worthiness and Ability.

(Special Star Correspondence).
Goldboro, N. C., June 24.—The Washington correspondent of one of the State papers, under the date of June 20th, in speaking of Senator Simmons trying to get the President to appoint Judge Allen to the United States Supreme Court bench to succeed Hon. Charles E. Hughes, resigned, says that it has been rumored around Washington that Judge Allen is trying to get the President to appoint him to the bench. Judge Allen's friends were going to urge him to run for the Senate to succeed Senator Simmons two years from now, and intimates that Senator Simmons may possibly be trying to "land" the judgeship for Judge Allen in order to get him out of the way.

In an interview with newspaper men, Judge Allen, who is now at his home in this city, stated that if such a rumor was current it was without foundation, and furthermore he had no idea of opposing Senator Simmons.

While it is true that Senators Simmons and Overman and many other public men throughout the State have interested themselves in Judge Allen's behalf, to induce President Wilson to appoint the justice, they have done so purely on account of their love and loyal friendship for Judge Allen and because of his worth, ability and peculiar fitness for the position, and for no other reason.

Personally, Judge Allen has made no fight for the position, but at the same time he is deeply grateful to his friends

The Evidence is At Your Door.

Wilmington proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt:
J. F. Littleton, 610 S. Sixth St., Wilmington, says: "I had a dull ache across the small of my back and often I couldn't rest as the pain was so severe. I could hardly get down to pick up anything and when I did, I could scarcely get up again. I couldn't control the kidney secretions and had a constant desire to pass them. After taking a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills, I was relieved of the misery in my back. When I had finished three boxes, my kidneys acted regularly and my back felt as strong as it ever did. Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Littleton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y."

for the efforts that they have made, and are still making in his behalf, and his army of friends all over North Carolina trust that the President may yet see his way clear to appoint Judge Allen to the position.

REV. R. W. HOGUE'S CHURCH.
Congregation Adopts Formal Policy of Worship and Relief.

The Baltimore Sun has the following of interest to the many friends of Rev. R. W. Hogue through this State:
A platform that is to guide the course of both the minister and congregation in worship and general policy was adopted yesterday following the morning service of the Protestant Episcopal church of the Revelation, Lafayette and Warrick avenues, of which the Rev. Richard W. Hogue is priest in charge. There are nine planks in the platform, which are in substance as follows:

A stand against rented pews, the belief that a congregation is not a select fold "seeking to save their own souls, but an active force seeking to save the community;" that the minister is not in the position of a "hired gardener" and to tend the plants of a religious household, but a guide and a leader who should be sustained by the co-operation of the congregation; and that the pulpit of today "should follow the pattern of Christ, who spoke by parables."

A suggestion of "old-fashioned" religion is in the plank which states that it is better to be stirred to the consciousness of those things in which we are sinner and not to be made comfortable by the thought of whatever goodness we may possess, the belief that it is futile to preach the individualistic application of the Golden Rule and send men back to practice it under conditions which make it well nigh impossible.

A vestry is not a close corporation for self-preservation, but is simply representative of the congregation, and the rather than for a right at all times to a full knowledge of all the affairs of its parish.
The freedom of the pulpit is also declared for.

MCLEOD TELLS OF TRIP THROUGH NORTHWEST

Lumberton Man's Travels for Federal Trade Commission

Spent a Month and a Half in Wyoming and Neighboring States—Journey to Washington—Red Springs News and Views

Red Springs, N. C., June 24.—While at home a few days ago, Hon. G. B. McLeod, now travelling representative of the Federal Trade Commission, gave your correspondent a brief outline of what he has been doing since he left Lumberton the last of February. On March 8 he left Washington, going to the Northwest to gather information necessary to the investigation of oils, gasoline, etc., his first point being Cheyenne, Wyoming, from which point he made all the cities of Wyoming, Montana and parts of Idaho and Washington, his last point being Bellingham, finishing up there April 24 and from there beginning his long trip back to Washington, D. C., a distance of more than 3,000 miles, being five days and nights on the trip.

Asked if it wasn't a very tiresome trip, Mr. McLeod replied, "No, the two great railroad systems of the West, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, have such elegantly equipped trains, having considered every detail for the comfort of their passengers." First, said he, the trains are through trains and are made up of Pullman cars, save the dining and observation cars. The observation car is provided with most comfortable chairs, latest periodicals, writing desks, electric fans and lights. In other words, they are a most modern sitting room. Riding in this car you have given to you a veritable moving picture, most interesting in that it is continually changing. You pass through the plains with thousands of head of horses, cattle and sheep peacefully grazing; then comes thousands of acres of cultivated fields; next you enter the most beautiful mountain range, whose tops are white with snow. In the dining car the menu included everything found not only in the Far West but in the tropics as well, and in addition to all this, Mr. McLeod said, these trains are provided with modern barber shops and bath rooms. Thus, said he, with such pleasant and comfortable surroundings the traveler can't get tired but feels more or less of regret when the trip is ended.

Asked as to general conditions of people and country, Mr. McLeod said it can be summed up in a word: "Everybody seemed happy and prosperous. It is a country of grain, grass and stock with a demand for everything produced, which means big profits to the producers."

Mr. McLeod said it was his pleasure to visit many of the largest ranches of the West and see first hand their working. Other industries found there are the growing of sugar beets and Irish potatoes, and in addition to all these comes the oil. Wyoming, said Mr. McLeod, is destined to become the greatest oil producing field in the world. Coal and other minerals also are found in abundance, one city especially being world renowned—Butte—known as the richest copper hill in the world. Like ancient Babylon, it has a confusion of languages in the city. They work every hour in the year and their monthly payroll amounts to the sum of two and a half million dollars.

Mr. McLeod added that this western country is also a great free country. They work every hour in the year and their monthly payroll amounts to the sum of two and a half million dollars.

His friends believe the government struck it happy in the appointment of Mr. McLeod. He is the man for the job and the job suits him.

All Robesonians should be proud of the record made by A. W. McLean in the St. Louis convention. That he is the biggest man in North Carolina goes without saying, and if Mr. Wilson in forming his new cabinet wishes a man who will stand loyally by him and not flinch when troubles arise, he should cast his eyes towards North Carolina's National committeeman, who is his self presidential timber.

The Columbia State wishes to know where the old gentleman is who took an oath that he would neither shave his face nor cut his hair till Bryan was president. Answer: His name was McRae. His brother lives near Red Springs. His home was in Harnett county. Giving up his cherished desire about two years ago, he gave up the ghost.

The rains have ceased and farmers are beginning to plow again on the sandy lands. It will be some time yet before the bottom lands can be cultivated. Cotton and corn both are considerably damaged by the torrential rains.

The busiest man in Red Springs is Editor R. B. Branch, of the Tislen. With only one man as helper, he does the mechanical work of his paper, does all the editorial and local work, and gives each week to his subscribers one of the most readable weekly papers in North Carolina. Branch has done a man's part in helping place Red Springs on the map. FRED BROWN.

WANTS FAMILY VACCINATED

Says He Can't Depend on His County to Protect Him From Typhoid.

Raleigh, N. C., June 24.—"Please send me, as soon as possible, enough vaccine for myself and eight children," wrote a man to the State Board of Health. Continuing, he said:

"I have neglected having my family as well as myself vaccinated against typhoid fever and now the doctor tells me that my wife has typhoid and that my children are likely to have it, too, unless they are vaccinated against it at once."

The writer said further, in conclusion, "One reason why I have never had my family vaccinated against typhoid fever is because the doctors around here have been charging from five to ten dollars to give the three treatments and I have heard that in some counties where the county makes the arrangement with the State Board of Health it is given to everybody free. I hoped that our county would be one to make this arrangement this summer, but it hasn't. Anyway, it seems to me that if the State Board of Health furnishes the vaccine free to the doctors, it is criminal for them to charge five or ten dollars a piece to give it."

THEATRICAL

The Royal tomorrow presents another great seven reel Triangle bill, consisting of a mammoth five-set Triangle dramatic feature, "The Conqueror," starring Willard Mack, J. Barney Sherry, Enid Markley, Margaret Thompson and Louise Brownell in the leading roles, and a great two-reel Keystone comedy, "A Movie Star," featuring Mack Swain, one of the old Keystone standbys, with pretty Polly Moran, and an all-star Keystone lineup.

"The Conqueror" is a remarkably strong picture by reason of its fund-tinuous scream for two whole reels.

Hazel Dawn—Grand Tomorrow. Hazel Dawn, "The Pink Lady" of the screen, who has since her appearance in Famous Players productions, become one of the best beloved photoplay favorites in the world, returns to the Grand tomorrow in that leading feature-producing company's current release on the Paramount programme, "The Fied Girl." In the role of a resourceful, courageous and thoroughly lovable mountain maid whose stout heart before the imperious will of her father, Miss Dawn wins the sympathy of her audience as even she has never done before.

forth to secure world peace and to destroy the world menace of war.

David Starr Jordan and others have another way. It is a world court of arbitration, the supreme court of the nations, where every question ordinarily settled by war shall be settled once for all by the supreme arbiters of world affairs. Hitherto all their efforts have been but a fulfillment of the old prophecy, "saying peace, peace, when there is no peace"—in other words, talking peace and making war. The Socialists, bound in a world coalition, promised that there would be no more wars. They had enough men in every nation pledged to stand as Socialists of love and peace and make war. Brothers must not fight. They all were a mighty union; and if any nation declared war, they would declare a strike on the war, and make it impossible. When war's alarms sounded, the German Socialists rallied to war, forgot socialism to fight English, French, and Russian Socialists. The big strike was never declared. Shall we blame them for love of country? We are not. The effect, what is the cause of war? The effect of saying anything here except to show the failure of socialism to destroy the menace of war.

In the United States, the hope of destroying the menace of war is, "to be thoroughly prepared." This is not new. A prominent ruler of one of the nations of Europe is credited with having said, not long ago, that after the war, the nations will prepare more thoroughly than ever for war's eventualities. He is reported as saying that the nations will not forget the lesson of Belgium; that it is Switzerland's and Holland's effective soldiers that saves them from the war; that the only safeguard is to be prepared. This has been the talk for a generation; and when war comes, we find that preparation, instead of preventing war, makes war a thousand-fold more terrible. The only logical way of destroying the menace of war, is to get at the cause of it. Removing the cause, you no longer have the effect. What is the cause of war? There is but one authority that can tell us finally and fully.

"Whence come wars and whence come fightings among you? come they not of your pleasures that war in your members? Ye lust, and have not; ye kill, and covet, and cannot obtain; ye fight and war; ye have not, because ye ask not. Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may spend it in your pleasures."—James 4:1-3.

There are things that the nations want badly enough to spend treasure and blood to obtain them. That makes war. Now the remedy is this: "Who is wise and understanding among you? let him show by his good life his works in meekness of wisdom." For where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed. But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without variance, without hypocrisy. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace for them that make peace."—James 3:13-18.

Remember the words of Jesus, "Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called sons of God."

There may be what are considered righteous wars, or wars of self-defense; but always there is some one who is in-

Ill Health Often Caused By the Kidneys

Of all the ills mankind suffers from, nothing is more to be feared than those caused by kidney poisoning, because such ailments usually come on so stealthily that you are seldom aware of their presence until they have actually spread dangerous diseases throughout the body. There are, however, certain signs by which you can tell whether your kidneys are properly cleansing your blood.

If you arise in the morning with dull, aching pains in the back and feel as if your night's rest had not refreshed you; if you are weak, depressed, nervous or irritable; if your head aches, spots appear before your eyes; if your appetite is poor, your complexion sallow; if you have indigestion, biliousness, rheumatic pains and have lost flesh rapidly, you may be sure kidney poisons exist in your blood, and you cannot possibly get well until they are removed. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has a steady, beneficial action on the kidneys that usually brings relief in a short time. It is recognized by many physicians as one of the most dependable medicines in the treatment of kidney and liver diseases. It contains no harmful ingredients. Try it. THE MENACE OF WAR

How Will It Be Destroyed? Is the Question Asked.

To the Editor of The Star: Truly the menace of war has hung over us for many years; and when war burst in all its dread reality upon us, it only gave a feverish stir to war preparations such as went far beyond the gigantic efforts that already had been made. In fact, all the colossal piling up of armaments seemed but a feeble thing as compared with what has come since then.

And now as never before, all are looking forward to the time when they hope the menace of war shall be destroyed. England and France, for example, see that the only hope of peace is to crush Germany so completely that she will not be able to threaten them again for a generation to come at least. This is one means that is put vading, else there would be no need of self-defense. And why the invasion? We must go back to the Scripture we have quoted. There is only one means of destroying the menace of war, and that is, to accept the principles of righteousness as revealed in the Bible. This the world refuses to do. Every other means is but a subterfuge, and will fail. By none of the means that the world is using, will the menace of war be destroyed. Armageddon will be the ultimate clash, and then will come the end.

Very sincerely yours,
W. M. KNIGHT,
Elder of the local Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

YOUNG WILL COMMAND BRIGADE AT BORDER

Brigadier General Royster to Act as Adjutant General.

Young to Proceed to Border With First Regiment as Soon as Mustered.
Other Regiments to Follow.
Raleigh News.

Raleigh, N. C., June 24.—Tonight the First Regiment of the North Carolina National Guard, on special trains, is on its way to Camp Glenn, Morehead City, to mobilize for government service. This regiment embraces 12 companies located in the western part of the State. They will reach camp about 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The members of the companies at the various towns were given farewell banquets and smokers and there were demonstrations at their departure. General Young, who will be in command of the State forces, will review the troops as they pass through Raleigh.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Raleigh, N. C., June 24.—Carrying the double burden of the official duties of adjutant general and brigadier general, which he has done since June 1, on account of the poor health of Brig. Gen. B. S. Royster, Adjutant General Laurence W. Young is pressing the work of mobilizing the brigade of infantry, two troops of cavalry and ambulance company and hospital corps with all possible dispatch and is confident that just as fast as the mustering in of a regiment can be completed at Camp Glenn it will be ordered by the War Department straight to the Mexican border for actual service.

He will go with the first troops ordered to the border and the others will follow in complete brigades. General Young, who will come from his home in Oxford early in the coming week to take up the duties of adjutant general here in Raleigh. However, he was extremely anxious to take the brigade to Mexico as the brigadier general commanding, but physical examinations completely barred the possibility of his going. However, his physician insisted that he could not live 30 days under the probable strain of Mexican service.

The mobilization of the First Regiment was successfully accomplished today. The Second Regiment is to move to camp Wednesday and the Third on next Saturday. The cavalry and hospital corps and ambulance company move Sunday. All are to be fully equipped as fast as they arrive and the mustering in rushed with Inspector-Instructor Hunt in charge of the muster work.

General Young says all the organizations are now enlisted to the required strength, some of which he expects to be lost when the physical examinations are applied at Morehead City. However, he expects that these losses will be readily made good before the movement to the Mexican border begins.

Hearing School Book Men.
The State Textbook Commission and sub-commission resume the daily sittings Monday for hearing text book bidders, all indications being that at least two more weeks will be required to complete the work. However, the actual adoption of books for use in the public schools the next five years will not be accomplished before the middle of August. The purpose when the adoption proceedings started was to have the adoption achieved by August 3. The books have to be published and distributed to book dispensaries throughout the State by the time the fall terms of the schools open. It is not expected that there will be any very general change in the text books required to be used. But there will necessarily be a change of changes and possibly independent adoptions that will require rush work to make the books available for the children in the schools that have early openings.

Major W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture, just back from attending the good roads convention at Wilmington, is enthusiastic over the tremendous spirit of progress in highway construction and maintenance that was manifested by the thousands of more good roads enthusiasts that he found in attendance at the convention. He says Wilmington and that section of the State made a most remarkable showing of progress in highway construction and that the Wilmington-Charlotte, the Wilmington-Goldsboro, and the Wilmington-Payetteville highways that are being pushed through are especially important projects that the Wilmington folks are pushing to a high state of perfection.

Indigo Seed in Hand.
There is about a gallon of indigo seed in the hands of Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham that will be given to any applicants who will grow it for the making of dye stuffs after the manner of cultivation and treatment given it in India. The seeds, which is the second consecutive year of the indigo seed, came from Java and each person who will apply for and plant the seed will be furnished with detailed instructions for cultivation and treatment in its conversion to dye stuffs.

LOCAL DOCTORS ARE CALLED OUT AS MEMBERS OF CORPS.

Drs. Strommiller and Hunter Left Last Night for Camp Glenn.

Dr. C. F. Strommiller and Dr. W. R. Hunter, of this city, received orders yesterday from the War Department calling them out as members of the medical reserve corps to report at once at Camp Glenn, Morehead City, to examine guardsmen for muster into the Federal service.

Both of the above gentlemen are regular physicians of Wilmington. They rank as first lieutenants when called to the colors. They left the city last night in accordance with the orders received and will examine the guardsmen of the three regiments of North Carolina State troops, prior to their being mustered into service for duty on the Mexican border.

No additional orders have been received by Lieut. Col. J. VanR. Metts or Lieut. W. P. Monroe, of the Second Regiment, but they will leave Tuesday evening for Camp Glenn to join their regiment.

Messrs. C. L. Rourke, A. C. Banck, C. H. Branch and J. Q. Lewis have enlisted as members of Company D, of Goldsboro and will go to Morehead City.

—Mr. B. P. King, Jr., has gone to Albemarle, N. C., where he is located for the present.

RESULTS OF CITY ELECTION

Council Receives Returns as Canvassed
by Board of Elections—Only One Proposition Carried.

The official results of the recent special city election in Wilmington as canvassed by the city Board of Elections were received by City Council at its special meeting yesterday afternoon. As already announced one of the propositions—that for improvement of the waterworks and the purchase of additional fire apparatus—was carried by a majority of nine voters while the other two propositions, one for the improvement of Princess street and the other for aiding in the development of a manufacturing suburb, were lost by small majorities.

In submitting its report, the City Board of Elections submitted a supplementary report by Mr. G. W. Anderson, public accountant, who with Mr. L. H. Parth was employed to go over the tax books, showing that there were 373 electors, who had registered illegally. This number deducted from the total registration of 2,588 left 2,215 names. Some of these were found later to have been properly qualified and in its report the Board of Elections gave the number of registered voters, properly qualified, as being 2,351, making a vote of 1,278 necessary for a majority. The number of votes cast for water and fire improvements was 1,285 and 425 were cast against the proposition. The majority as declared by the board was nine.

The number of votes cast for the Princess street improvement was 837 and against 692, the proposition being lost by a majority of 359.

The number of votes cast for the manufacturing suburb proposition was 1,193 and against 423, the proposition being lost by a majority of 83 votes.

The report was signed by the members of the Board of Elections which is composed of Messrs. C. W. Woodward, chairman, W. N. Harris, John Haar W. E. Lawson and Joseph J. Loughlin. The supplementary report of Mr. Anderson, containing the names of those who had not paid their poll tax by May 1 but who registered for the election was submitted with the report of the Board. This will probably be called for by the Grand Jury which will be impaneled at this week's term of Superior Court. The Board of Elections has no authority except to canvass the returns but the law makes it a misdemeanor for voters to register who are not entitled to this privilege, and it is not improbable that the grand jury will look into the matter.

SEASIDE ASSEMBLY OPENS

Rev. J. T. Watts, of Richmond, Va., at First Baptist Church Tonight.

Dr. Hurt Tomorrow.

Rev. J. T. Watts, Sunday School secretary of the Baptist General Association, of Richmond, Va., who is here to take part in the Baptist Seaside Assembly, will speak at the First Baptist church tonight on "Organized Class Work." Mr. Watts is considered the leader in this work in the Southern Baptist denomination and it is hoped that as many workers of the city in organized class work as can do so will hear his address which will be most practical and helpful.

The Baptist Seaside Assembly opens at Wrightsville Beach tomorrow morning and one of the features of the opening session will be an address by Mr. Watts. Dr. B. W. Spillman, field worker of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board, who speaks at the First Baptist church this afternoon, will also be one of the speakers.

Rev. Dr. John Jeter Hurt, formerly of the First Baptist church this week, will make his first address to the people of Wilmington at the night session of the Assembly tomorrow. His subject will be "The Sunday School as a Man's Job."

Mr. E. L. Middleton, of Raleigh, who has direct charge of the arrangements for the Assembly, expects a large attendance at the Assembly which will continue through the week.

One of the features of the Assembly will be the concert by a chorus of about 50 voices in the auditorium, where the meetings are to be held, on next Saturday night under the direction of Mr. J. C. Cantrell, of this city. All the members of the chorus will be Wilmingtonians and they are now busy with rehearsals.

JUDGE J. D. MURPHY ORATOR

For Annual Celebration at Moore's
Creek Battle Ground on Thursday,
August 3rd.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., June 24.—The Moore's Creek National Battle Ground Association announces that the annual celebration this year will be held on Thursday, August 3. President G. J. Moore and the directors are already at work on the programme which they hope to make one of the most interesting in many years.

Judge J. D. Murphy, of Asheville, has been secured to deliver the address of the day. Judge Murphy is a native of the county and many of the State papers have recently paid high tribute to him as an orator. His many friends will be glad to hear him on this occasion.

A number of improvements have been made on the grounds since the last celebration. Most noticeable among these are the shade trees which have been set on all the avenues leading through the grounds. These and the shrubbery that was set out in the early spring will add greatly to this historic spot in a very few years.

Among yesterday's arrivals at the Orton were W. F. Smith, Chadbourn; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clifford, Winston-Salem; G. E. Gurwell, Charlotte; W. A. Underwood, Asheville; J. C. Mallard, W. Swinson, Rose Hill; L. R. Stephens, Lumberton; E. P. Canine, Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. West, Fayetteville; R. A. Miller, Esq., Chadbourn; Mr. and Mrs. John D. Alexander, Goldsboro, and Fred Strudwick, Greensboro.

and fine results are being obtained. Each of the sessions are largely attended by the visiting delegates and great interest is taken in the daily programmes.

The demonstration by the New Barn delegates was in form of a missionary programme and proved most interesting. Among those who took part were: Messrs. C. D. Thomas, LeRoy Kellum, Mrs. Howard Simpson, Mr. S. H. Coward, Messrs. Rhodes, Kellum and Harrison, Misses Sudie Rhodes and Lorena Collins, Mr. Hughes Rhodes, Misses Mabel Williams, Lovie Smith and Alpha Kellum, and Fred Harrison.

Life Insurance and A Bank Book

The American Bank and Trust Company looks with especial favor on the account of the man who has his life well insured. It bespeaks not only foresight and judgment, but also increases the stability of his financial position.

Men are prone to delay this important matter. The first premium is often a seeming obstacle. A special savings account at this bank for the purpose of accumulating premiums will remove the difficulties. Life Insurance in good companies will be a constant and growing asset. Periodical deposits in your savings account will provide your premiums without heavy drains on your income at one time.
